ON THE YANGTZE. TWO MAJOR ALLIANCES.

MILITARY DEVELOPMENTS.

CANTON GOVT. NOT LIKELY TO SUPPORT NANKING.

LOW NATIONALIST STOCK.

LULL IN THE FIGHTING.

"Nationalist" stock slumped somewhat during the week-end by reason of military developments along the Yangtze River and in North China.

By now the various factions are sorting themselves out into two major alliances, one against the other, each member of a faction singling out an opponent for combat.

Whereas hostilities have been revived in the far north, it appears as if a lull is about to set in along the lower Yangtze, where the first flush of the Nanking success seems to have subsided.

FENGTIEN ADVANCE.

By "Nationalist" is, of course, meant the Nanking Government. Indications are that the Canton Government—as reported elsewhere in this issue—is unlikely to support Nanking.

Then General Chu Pei-teh, who was expected to join in with Nanking and create a diversion in the rear of Hankow's present line, is preferring neutrality. This is a disappointment to Nanking.

Keep Out of the War.

Kiukiang, Yesterday. General Chu Pei-teh (3rd Army), who controls a part of Kiukiang, and is at present between Hankow and the war zone where Hankow troops are retreating before Nanking's advance, is believed to be trying to keep Kiukiang province out of the war between Nanking and Hankow, but it is not known what steps he will take to maintain neutrality as he is directly in the path of both rival factions. — British Naval Wireless.

BETWEEN 2 FIRES.

Nanking's War on Yangtze and the North.

With the tide of sympathisers ebbing, the Nanking generals have not pressed their advance up the Yangtze as they did last week.

The Nanking army is still between Wuhu and Anking, at least 250 miles beyond Hankow; while the Hankow armies are falling back in steady order and will not offer battle till they are within 100 miles of Hankow.

Nanking is between two fires. While one force is going up-river to deal with General Tang Seng-chi, troops can still be spared to reinforce the two columns opposing Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, a supporter of the Fengtien Party.

Still Pouring North.

Nanking, Yesterday. Still more pro-Nanking Nationalist troops are being moved from the south bank of the Yangtze River across to the north bank, i.e., from Nanking to Pukow and from Chinkiang to the Grand Canal. — British Naval Wireless.

[Note: The inference is that Nanking, although at war with Hankow, can still spare troops to go to the north of the Yangtze for service against the North-erners.]

The "Kung Sheung Yat Po" reports that Peking has supplied Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, with funds so that he can have another tussle with Nanking.

WHO'S WHO.

Factions in the Opposing Alliances.

The "Christian general" (Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang of Honan) is definitely on Nanking's side. His army, the Kuomintang, is engaged in a campaign along the Lung-Hai Railway against the Shantung army which also belongs to the Fengtien federation.

Because Fengtien opposes the "Christian general," and the "Christian general" is allied with Nanking, Fengtien also opposes Nanking. — Nanking Wireless.

FIGHT AT FATSHAN.

Night Skirmishes With Brigands.

PLOT TO RAID CITY.

Mayor's Local Troops Win Street Battle.

How a series of night skirmishes between the representatives of the Canton Government and several hundred brigands was fought at Fatshan is graphically related in an official dispatch just available.

The bandits plotted to raid the city of Fatshan last week. Fatshan is a thriving part of the Nam-hoi metropolitan district, about ten miles due west of Canton, on the south bank of the Canton River.

Fortunately for the authorities, word was received in the morning. The mayor forthwith ordered the police and gendarmes to prepare lines of defence.

True to the intelligence obtained, the outlaws appeared that night. Their vanguard of fifty strong was repulsed by volleys from the defenders. When the main body of about three hundred armed men came up, both sides took up the fight in earnest and the robbers were defeated.

In his report to Canton, the Mayor states that two of the raiders were captured and five killed. The others fled before sunrise when in danger of being surrounded. A quantity of arms and ammunition was captured.

SMART TURN OUT.

FIRE CHIEF STAGES "CASUALTY."

A MORNING SURPRISE.

Station Officer Moss of the Central Fire Station, who is a stickler for efficiency, put his ambulance men to the test this morning, and the turn out was so realistic that many people who happened to be passing the station at the time were convinced that an accident—may, a fatality—had occurred, and soon rumours went round that another Chinese fireman had met his death by a fall from an aerial rope while at exercise.

Enquiries made by a "China Mail" reporter elicited the information that it was all a "sham affair." It appeared that the firemen had been through their exercises as usual, which ended up with the aerial rope life saving drill. All the men got to the ground in safety, but as a test for the ambulance men who were not "in the know," Mr. Moss decided to stage an emergency turn out.

Their Not To Reason Why. The last man down the aerial rope was therefore stretched full length on the ground and the alarm given. The ambulance men turned out promptly ready for any emergency. A glance at the man lying on the ground showed that there was nothing the matter with him, but as "their's is not to reason why," the ambulance men set to with practised hands to apply splinters and bandages to imaginary injuries, and then wrapping him up in a blanket, placed him in a stretcher and then into the ambulance which was standing by. All this was done in an incredibly short time, and then with bell clanging, the ambulance sped out of the station and took the "injured" one for a joy ride around the block.

Mr. Moss was quite pleased with the promptness of the turnout and decided to call it a day.

Hankow situation is not too satisfactory.

SALT FUNDS.

Chinese Admiral to Confer at Peking.

Chefoo, Saturday. There is still no end to the trouble over the Salt Gabelle revenue. This money has been demanded by the Chinese from the Banks in order to meet the cost of maintaining the Northern Chinese Navy. — British Naval Wireless.

Chefoo, Yesterday. Following the controversy over the disposal of the Salt Gabelle funds, Admiral Shen has proceeded to Peking where he will discuss the matter in detail with the Chief Inspector of the Salt Gabelle. — British Naval Wireless.

Shanghai Strike. Shanghai, Saturday. There is a turn for the better with regard to the situation caused by the strike of the British-American Tobacco Company's workers. — British Naval Wireless.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

River Steamer Almost Pirated Again.

THE S.S. "SHING ON."

Vigilance Of Ship's Watchmen Frustrate Attempt.

Pirated only a month or so ago, the local river steamer "Shing On" is now reported to have narrowly escaped capture.

Vigilance on the part of the ship's watchmen led to frustration of a plot in which members of the Chinese crew are alleged to have been implicated. The men who were suspected of being in league were surprised and placed in custody before they could secure control of the ship.

On Saturday, the "Shing On" left Hong Kong for Wuchow via the usual West River ports. She is not licensed for the carriage of passengers from Hong Kong and, accordingly, does not come under the Piracy Prevention Ordinance. The cargo was of normal capacity. Suspicious.

After the ship had passed Whangmoon, the entrance to the West River delta, the suspicions of the watchmen were aroused. Two men on board, stated to be connected with the catering department, were placed under supervision.

This occurred at a point known to the Chinese as Parrot's Beak Passage, which is just below that part of the river junction leading to Kongmoon. Two other men jumped overboard and their fate is unknown.

From another source it is gathered that several men who did not belong to the crew attempted to interfere with the engine room but were spotted by the crew and arrested.

How Many Caught? The number of alleged pirates is given in another quarter as two arrested, one detained. Details will be available when the "Shing On" returns to-morrow.

The British s.s. "Kochow" (Captain Morgan), which has also been pirated this year, arrived in Hong Kong last night with news of the events on the "Shing On." An unofficial report was that four or five men had been locked up in a room.

Later the "Kwong Hung" also arrived, from which it was learned that the alleged attempted piracy had been reported to the Customs authorities at Samshui, the first port of call on the up-river voyage. It was said that the men under arrest were on the point of assembling for the alleged purpose of seizing control of the vessel.

Previous Attempt. Although some river steamers are not licensed to carry passengers in and out of Hong Kong, a number of supercargoes, runners, etc., invariably travel by such boats. Between intermediate ports, the ship is not subject to Hong Kong laws and passengers are carried without restraint.

On the last occasion when the "Shing On" was attacked, the pirates boarded the vessel in the guise of passengers at Samshui. The commodore jumped overboard rather than be taken away by the pirates to be held for ransom, and no definite word has been heard about him since.

FOR RADIO FANS.

Messrs. Holland-China Handicompagnie write:—

We received a telegram this morning, informing us that, in commemoration of the number of workmen employed at Messrs. Phillips factory reaching to-day the 10,000 mark, there will be special broadcasting to-morrow, Tuesday, November 1, from 2 to 10 a.m. local time.

Messrs. Phillips will also broadcast until further notice, on Tuesday and Thursday every week, from 11 to 12 G.M.T.

We will appreciate to hear from any local short wave station (30.5 meter), which has been able to listen in.

STILL FINE.

Fine weather, with moderate east winds is the official forecast until noon to-morrow.

The anticyclone is central over S.W. Japan. The monsoon is interrupted to the north of Amoy. It will remain moderate over the China Sea.

WANG'S RETURN.

What May Happen In Canton.

LI FRIENDLY?

Theory Of a Top Dog Civil Administration.

General Li Chai-sum, the commander-in-chief of Kwangtung, sat next to Mr. Wang Ching-wei at the official reception to the latter on his return to Canton from Hankow via Shanghai and Hong Kong.

Such an action, in current Chinese politics, is indicative of harmony between the two leaders, one a soldier and the other a politician rather than a statesman.

In the "front row" were several persons who are or have been prominent in the Left Wing of the Kuomintang, subsequently known as the Hankow faction. These included Mr. Chen Kung-po (the present Finance Minister), Mr. Kan Nai-kwang (who accompanied Mr. Wang) and Mrs. Liao Chung-kai (head of the Kuomintang Women's Department).

Mr. Wang's Pet Theory. Unless Mr. Wang has materially changed his ideas, says a "China Mail" correspondent, he is unlikely to have much effect on Canton's policy.

Such a statement, however, should be qualified by a prediction that discord between General Li Chai-sum and Mr. Wang is remote.

Mr. Wang's pet theory, ever since the Nationalists set out from Kwangtung under Chiang Kai-shek to conquer China, has been to establish a civil administration with the military in a subordinate position.

The Last Word. He failed to convince General Tang Seng-chi of Hankow and he was not successful at Nanking. From what is known of Li Chai-sum, Mr. Wang's prospects in Canton are not too good.

General Li prefers to have the last word in the government but he has to listen to the voice of the public if not to abide by it.

Still, with a much bigger military backing than General Li has, even the Nanking generals did not think it worth while to dispense with Mr. Wang's services if they could help it.

Ironies Disappoint. The situation in Canton might be summed up as follows:—

The Ironies, under General Chang Fah-hui, who might have supported Mr. Wang, have receded into the background, outnumbered and out-positioned by Li Chai-sum and his ally, General Wong Shi-hung.

But Mr. Wang's name counts for much with one section of the people and with an influential section of politicians.

A Famous Nationalist. Rather than run the risk of being accused of putting obstacles in the way of Mr. Wang, who is a famous Nationalist, General Li welcomes his entry into the administration.

For the present, General Li may concede considerable

MR. R. BATSON.

DIES SUDDENLY IN TIENTSIN.

LIVED IN HONG KONG.

Tientsin, October 19.

The Tientsin Club was the scene of a very tragic occurrence yesterday evening. Mr. R. Batson, of Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son, Ltd., who was sitting reading, and apparently in quite normal health, in the main hall, suddenly collapsed. Dr. O'Neill who was on the premises, immediately attended him, and was joined a few minutes later by Dr. Shinn. Injections, artificial respiration, and oxygen were all tried, in vain.

After working for an hour to bring Mr. Batson round all hope had to be abandoned. The tragedy of the occurrence is enhanced by the fact that Mr. Batson was engaged to be married, and his wedding date was actually fixed.

The cause of death is unknown. Deceased was badly gassed during the war, and it is assumed that he died from heart trouble, or from some injury to the brain.

The greatest sympathy will be felt with his fiancée, Mrs. Gray. Mr. Batson was formerly in the Hong Kong office of Messrs. Thos. Cook and Son, Ltd.

CAFE PARISIEN.

$200,000 LIABILITIES.

EXAMINATION OF DEBTORS.

M. DURAND'S PROTEST AGAINST THE SALE OF PREMISES.

DECEASED LADY'S MONEY.

GIFTS TO MME. FLINT.

M. Durand and Madame Flint were publicly examined in bankruptcy at the Bankruptcy Court this morning.

The business concerned were the Cafe Parisien, the Europe-Asia Trading Company, the Beauty Parlour, Au Chic Parisien, and a grocery shop in Ice House Street.

In the course of examination it was stated that $216,000 had been lost in these and other enterprises, with which M. Durand was said to have been associated.

M. Durand, who was closely cross-examined as to the use of money from the late Mrs. Stephens, complained of the manner in which the business had been sold for "practically nothing" and protested against being adjudged bankrupt. When the business was, according to him, really worth the amount of liabilities.

MANY VENTURES.

M. Durand was the first debtor examined. He stated he was a French subject and had lived in Hong Kong for five years. Before coming to Hong Kong he was in Saigon as manager of the metal and hardware department of Dennis Freres. Before he left Saigon he endeavoured to start an Asia Trading Agency but he could not find sufficient capital. He incurred $17,000 liabilities in connection with this attempt and came to a settlement with his creditors whereby $13,000 was paid them.

Debtor joined Britto and Company, an import and export firm, in Hong Kong and opened a French department, being employed on a commission basis. He received 40 per cent. in respect of business introduced but was only with the firm a few months as it went into liquidation. He then joined Lepack and Company which also went into liquidation after he had been with the firm six months.

Mr. D. H. Blake was present in Court as representative of the interests of the estate of the late Mrs. M. J. D. Stephens.

Asked at the conclusion of the examinations of debtors, whether he had questions to ask, he replied in the negative.

Debtor then started business on his own account as the Europe-Asia Trading Company, in the Hong Kong Hotel building, into which he put about two or three thousand dollars. He was for a time agent for a firm dealing with tar products and he bought and sold on his own anything else on which he thought he might make a profit.

Mr. Agassiz (Official Receiver): Did you make money?

Debtor: Enough to pay expenses and living for my family.

Debtor continued, under examination, that he had entered into a partnership arrangement with Madame Flint whereby he became a partner in her business. He was to get a sixth of the profits.

Mr. Agassiz: And her business was a long established business of considerable value.

With Mme. Flint. Debtor stated that the business had been established, he thought, for something like twelve years. It might be worth something like $20,000.

Mr. Agassiz: And the only asset which you brought to this long established business into which you were taken a partner was an agency which you state had only made sufficient to keep you and your family.

Debtor: Yes. Debtor also stated, under examination, that they carried on under this arrangement for one and a half years and then another agreement was entered into whereby he was to get an equal share of the profit with Madame Flint.

Asked how this came about debtor stated that Madame Flint had intended going home and he was to be left in control of the business. That was why the new agreement was made. On account of the strike and the removal into suitable premises Madame Flint did not, in fact, leave Hong Kong.

Removal. Debtor stated that when he first went into partnership with Madame Flint's business was being carried on in Queen's Road and a move was subsequently made into China Building, later another move being made to Pedder Building at a cost of something like $20,000. The move was made in order that they might have central premises on a ground floor so that the showrooms should be visible to passers-by. The rent of the premises in Pedder Building was $3,200 a month, nearly double that of the premises in China Building.

Mr. Agassiz: As a matter of fact, the premises in Pedder Building were very much too big for you.

Debtor explained that it had been their intention to sub-let some of the premises but as they could not get tenants they decided to start the Cafe on their own account. The Cafe was started in July of last year and the Beauty Parlour and Au Chic Parisien about the same time.

Mr. Agassiz: With your Europe-Asia Trading Company also, doing no business?

Debtor: The idea was that the Europe-Asia Trading Company should act as agents for the other businesses, doing the buying for them.

Gifts. Debtor continued that the grocery shop in Ice House Street was started about the same time. Regarding the Cafe, debtor admitted that considerable expense was incurred in its foundation. In this connection there had been gifts from the late Mrs. Stephens.

Mr. Agassiz: Between October, 1925, and June, 1927, you and Madame Flint received a sum approximating $166,000.

Debtors: Nearly.

Mr. Agassiz: A considerable amount of that (something like $58,000), was advanced before the Cafe was opened, $126,722 was advanced to Madame Flint on condition that she looked after the business. And $40,000 was advanced to you.

Debtor: Yes.

Mr. Agassiz: Was there any reason why Mrs. Stephens should make these presents?

Debtor: Madame Flint was Mrs. Stephens' nurse and I was in charge of the business.

Mr. Agassiz: You think that is sufficient reason?

Debtor: Yes.

Action Pending. Mr. Agassiz: It is denied that these were gifts and, as you know, there is an action pending in this connection. Was the money advanced to you or given to you?

Debtor: It was a gift.

Mr. Agassiz: The Cafe has been run at a loss ever since it began. Police Action Blamed.

Debtor: I do not think we have lost a lot. If you consider the statement of the manager it will be seen that when we applied for a petition we had the value of something like $200,000 in the premises which were sold for $14,500. It is shameful that they were sold for this.

Debtor began a long diatribe involving the sale and subsequent happenings on the premises. Why was it, if the Cafe was worth so little, he asked, that another concern had been started there?

His Lordship interrupted the debtor and remarked that it was easy but dangerous to make such charges. (Continued on Page 7.)

STRAITS MARKET.

PENANG REPORTED "QUIETLY STEADY."

Penang, October 17.

The share market was quietly steady at the beginning of the week until the big drop in Tin on Wednesday which brought out many sellers, and it is difficult at this stage to forecast the trend of the market for the immediate future but in view of the big appreciation of the metal to-day, things look more cheery and it is expected that prices in shares will be maintained.

Rubbers.

The match feared 70,000 tons of London Stocks has now come to pass and as stated in the last report, it was hardly possible to expect any material appreciation in the price of commodity with stocks in London mounting up week by week. We still maintain that view although rubber price quoted to-day at 1/4 1/2 in London and 38 1/2 cts.
 in New York seems somewhat encouraging.

In view of the uncertain position of the industry, investors of rubber shares were inclined to adopt a waiting attitude with the result that very few transactions were done in rubber in rubber shares during the week and quotations

COMPANY MEETING.

GRAND HOTEL DES WAGONS-LITS, LTD.

The annual meeting of shareholders in the Grand Hotel des Wagons-Lits, Limited, was held in the registered office—the Hong Kong & Shanghai Hotels office—on Saturday at noon.

Mr. J. H. Taggart, who presided, stated:—

The report of the Directors and the accounts for the year ended June 30, 1927, together with the balance sheet as at that date, having been in your hands for several days, I propose with your permission to treat them as read.

The report of the auditors on the balance sheet at June 30, 1927, is as follows:—

"We have audited the above balance sheet with the books and vouchers of the Company. We have obtained all the information and explanations we have required and in our opinion the balance sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Company's affairs according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Company."

PERCY SMITH, SETH & FLEMING, Incorporated Accountants, Auditors.

Hong Kong, Oct. 1, 1927.

The credit balance on Working Account resulting from the operation of our Hotel in Peking for the year ended June 30, 1927, is unfortunately less than the balance similarly brought to credit in respect of the working for the year ended June 30, 1926, to the extent of approximately T.13,000.00. This is attributable to the extremely unsettled condition of affairs which has prevailed in North China during the whole of the period under review, resulting as it has in an almost complete cessation of tourist business in Peking and a considerable falling off in the patronage previously extended to the establishment by Peking residents due in the main to many of such residents leaving the city. I regret that at the present time we cannot look forward with any degree of optimism to an immediate improvement in conditions there. Taking into consideration all the circumstances, however, the result shown during the Company's past financial year may be regarded as not unsatisfactory, for not only has the Hotel been deprived of its transient guest support, but the Working expenditure in almost all departments has been unavoidably subject to considerable increases. The cost of practically all commodities has mounted steadily, particularly coal, the item mentioned by your Chairman at the last annual meeting, the difficulty in obtaining supplies of which has in no way lessened. Fortunately we have been able to acquire reasonable stocks sufficient to be assured of coping with our winter requirements.

You will note that after providing for depreciation on the same lines as previously and amounting to T.31,011.71, as shown in detail in the account presented to you, a net profit of T.400.19 resulted for the year, which, added to the balance of T.1,184.87 brought forward from the previous year, provides the Profit and Loss Account with a total credit balance at June 30, 1927, of T.1,585.06, which balance your Directors recommend be carried forward to next account.

You will observe from the balance sheet that investments, which on June 30, 1927, stood at the figure of T.147,839.29, have been considerably increased since the last annual meeting when the credit under the heading amounted to T.82,488.19. The acquisitions made during the year under review, I may add, represent investments of the Company's funds in the shares of sound Hong Kong Companies.

There being no further matters appearing to call for comment I now beg formally to propose that the report and accounts as presented be adopted and passed and that the balance of Profit and Loss Account be dealt with as recommended by the Board in the printed report of the Directors. When that has been seconded I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability any questions which shareholders may wish to put with reference to the report and accounts.

The motion was formally seconded and unanimously adopted.

The appointment of Messrs. P.
 H. Suckling and R. W. Skinner as Directors was confirmed, and Messrs. J. Scott Haydon and W. J.
 Hawker were re-elected Directors.
 Messrs. Percy Smith, Seth, and Fleming were re-elected Directors.

TRUTH IN REPORTS.

DEMANDED BY PHILIPPINES
 INSULAR AUDITOR.

There is a growing tendency among certain Government officials to give out fictitious statements about the enormous profits that their respective departments have made, according to Insular Auditor Wright.

The recent statement made by Director of Posts Topacio is a case in point. According to Mr. Topacio, the bureau of posts made a clean P919,009 during the first nine months of this year, the result of a gross income of over P3,000,000 and in expenditure of a little in excess of P2,000,000.

A check-up made by the insular auditor's office showed that the bureau of posts, in making this statement, failed to include nearly half a million in its expense items.
 Fifty per cent. of this amount corresponds to salaries and wages. If this expense is taken into consideration, it will be seen that the result of the past nine months' operation is not so striking, after all, Mr.
 Wright said.

There are other Government entititles which have been reporting profits at the end of each year without making all the allowances for depreciation and other such matters. A strict auditing in accordance with sound business principles should be made before any authentic statement on profits can be had,
 according to the auditor.

PIRATES AGAIN.

SIX CAPTURED RICE JUNKS AS BOOTY.

BOCCA TIGRIS HAPPENINGS.

Pirates are reported to have effected the capture of a steam launch and six rice junks near Bocca Tigris shortly after two o'clock on Friday afternoon.
The junks were being towed by three launches at the time but when the two other launches (the "Sing On" and the "Lee Yik") observed that the leading launch (the "Lee Hoong") was being boarded by men who put off from the shore in a grey junk the other launches cut free from the junks and escaped, making for Hong Kong.
When last seen, the "Lee Hoong" and the grey launch were towing the six rice junks away, but the direction taken is not yet established.

A STOWAWAY.

RUSSIAN DESTITUTE IN COLONY.

D. L. Bolko, a Russian aged 17, was charged before Major C. Willson on Saturday, with being destitute and without visible means of support. He pleaded guilty.
Sub-Inspector Elston, who prosecuted, said that the accused came to the Colony by stowing away in one of Jardine's boats which left Shanghai about ten days ago. He was arrested in the streets by the Police, who found him begging.
The Sub-Inspector said that the accused would be returned to Shanghai and that the shipping Company concerned would be called upon to see to this.
Major Willson then committed the accused to the House of Detention until such time as he could be returned to Shanghai.

NEW MOTOR SHIP.

BUILT BY BURMEISTER AND WAIN, LTD.

TWO STEEL DECKS.

The single-screw motor ship "Siljestad" has been built by Burmeister and Wain, Ltd., to the order of Skibsaktieselskabet "Siljestad," Oslo, to "Det norske Veritas," highest class X I.A.I. and according to the requirements of the Norwegian laws and the British Factory Act.

She is of the open shelter-deck type, with poop and forecastle, the principal dimensions being as follows:—Length overall, 394 ft.; length between pp., 375 ft.; breadth moulded 58 ft. 6 in.; depth moulded to shelter deck, 36 ft.; depth moulded to upper deck, 27 ft.; depth of double bottom 41 ft.; draft loaded 24 ft. 5 in.; deadweight capacity, about 7,750 tons; gross tonnage, 4,301 tons; fuel consumption per 24 hours, 10 tons.

The vessel has two complete steel decks and six watertight bulkheads. The double bottom is arranged for the carriage of fuel, oil or water ballast. The total water ballast capacity of the vessel is 1,418 tons, and the oil fuel capacity 1,100 tons. The four lower cargo holds and shelter deck have a total grain capacity of 468,500 cubic feet, and a bale capacity of 435,200 cubic feet. The cargo-handling facilities are very complete, consisting of 10 3-ton derricks, which are served by 10 3-ton winches. In addition, one 6-ton capstan is fitted at the poop for warping purposes; the winches are all electrically driven. The windlass, which also is electrically driven, is supplied by Emerson, Walker and Thompson Bros., Ltd. The steering gear is of the electric hydraulic type from John Hattie and Co., and is controlled from the bridge by tele-motor.

The propelling machinery consists of one six-cylinder, four-cycle, single-acting Diesel engine of Burmeister and Wain's latest crosshead type, developing 3,000 h.p. at 100 revolutions per minute, with an estimated speed of 11½ knots.

The daily fuel oil consumption is about 10 tons, and with a bunker capacity of 1,100 tons the ship will have a sailing radius of about 30,000 miles.

All the auxiliary machinery in the engine room, as well as the deck machinery is electrically driven, the current being supplied by three dynamos, each with an output of 66 k.w., and direct coupled to 2 2-cylinder auxiliary Diesel engines. The power supply for the deck machinery and engine room motors is 220 volts, while the lighting is transformed down to 110 volts.

An oil-fired boiler of the cross tube type is fitted at the engine room, having a heating surface of 120 square feet for supplying steam to the radiators in the accommodation. Over the measured mile the ship obtained a speed of 13.45 knots, the main engine developing 3,188 h.p. at 107.5 revolutions per minute. Thereafter a consumption test was held lasting 3 hours, when the main engine developed 3,190 h.p., and giving a consumption of 187.1 per h.p. hour. This consumption includes the consumption of the auxiliary engines, producing the necessary current for driving the auxiliary machinery, the steering gear and the refrigerating set.

COURT "SCENE."

Why Mr. F. C. Jenkin
Left.

NO DISCOURTESY.

Magistrate Accepts Lawyer's Explanation.

There was an echo on Saturday morning of the sensational ending on Friday of the $50,000 forged cheque case in which the prosecutors, the Yokohama Specie Bank, announced through their counsel, Mr. F. C. Jenkin, that they had no evidence to offer against the accused, Fung Hing, an assistant in the Comptroller Department of the Netherlands India Commercial Bank, who was defended by Mr. M. K. Lo.

The case was again mentioned on Saturday when both Mr. Jenkin and Mr. Lo appeared before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Central Magistrate in connection with the alleged conspiracy charge brought by the Wing On Company against F. Chan, a former assistant manager in the Company's Ship Chandlery Department.

Before proceeding with the cross-examination of Chan, Mr. Jenkin made reference to the happenings of the previous day. He said that it was with consternation that he read on Friday the "scare" headlines concerning the case in the afternoon papers. The morning papers, he added, were more restrained about the matter.

Proceeding to speak about his action in leaving the Court on Friday, Mr. Jenkin referred to the fact that he had been appearing before his Worship for quite a long time, and he assured Mr. Lindsell that nothing was farther from his mind than intentionally to show discourtesy to that Court. He explained that he had remained in Court after the withdrawal of the case against the accused because he had wanted to listen to Mr. Lo, but as what the latter said was uninteresting and beside the point, he thought that he would go away. When he made the decision to go he was under the impression that no good purpose could be served by his presence in Court, as there was nothing more that he could say or do. Therefore he left, thinking that nothing else could be required of him by his Worship.

Mr. Jenkin concluded by again assuring Mr. Lindsell that he had not meant to be discourteous to the Court.

Mr. Lindsell said that at first he was somewhat disconcerted to observe Mr. Jenkin leaving the Court, as the case had not yet been finished, but on second thoughts he was satisfied that Mr. Jenkin must have acted under misapprehension, and that he could not have meant his action to be a discourtesy to the Court.

Mr. Lo said that he might have been a little hasty in making his remark, but he was taken completely aback by Mr. Jenkin's sudden departure. He thought that there was no precedent for Mr. Jenkin's action, and said so at the time. However, he did not remember using the word "outrage" in his protest. He was sure he had employed another word. He trusted that Mr. Jenkin would accept that explanation.

This brought the matter to a close and the business of the Court was proceeded with.

COOLIDGE OBSERVING GREATEST CAUTION.

Washington, Oct. 27.

In the course of a visit to the White House to-day by Frank W. Carpenter, former Executive Secretary in the Philippines, it was indicated that President Coolidge intends to inform himself concerning every phase of Philippine affairs before choosing the new Governor-General.

Once more it was made plain that the President has not made up his mind as to whom he will choose, and that he will await information from both American and Philippine advisers before making a decision.

Governor Francis B. Loomis, a San Franciscan, also called on President Coolidge to-day and recommended appointment of a resident of California.—United Press.

"REMOVED."

U.S. NAVY CHIEF'S ORDER TO STAND.

Washington, Oct. 27.

Secretary Curtis D. Wilbur of the Navy Department announced to-day that President Coolidge had refused the plea of Rear Admiral T. P. Magruder for revocation of the order removing him from command at the Philadelphia Navy yard.

Thus ended the latest bout in Admiral Magruder's famous fight which started with publication of an article in the "Saturday Evening Post" declaring that the Navy is over-stuffed, swathed in red tape, and not worthy of the large appropriations given it by Congress. The Admiral must therefore accept the order relieving him from duty and await further action in his case.

Indications are however, that his sharp and specific criticisms are due for a good airing in Congress this winter. Magruder has been a naval officer for thirty-six years. He received the Distinguished Service Medal for commanding coast patrol squadrons in French waters. His flagship was sunk in 1918. And he attacked on definite points.

Magruder is understood to point out, among other things, wherein he thought the navy was not getting the most return for its money. One of his main criticisms is that too much money is being spent on desk officers and clerks in Washington.

"The typewriter is mightier than the sword," Magruder said in relating that the new aircraft carrier "Saratoga" is to have sixty-two typewriters aboard.—United Press.

Traveling Social Registers

Look over the Guest List of any President Liner! Those who know ships, enjoy the best in transportation and demand and appreciate smart, efficient service, always travel on these great, fast liners.

The magnificent President Liners are broad of beam and exceptionally steady.

All are of burr oak, swift expeditious.

The public rooms are luxuriously appointed and inviting.

All staterooms are outside, splendidly furnished and equipped with beds—not bunks. Each room has hot and cold running water, also fans, wardrobe, thermos bottles and reading lamps. Private bath and showers in connection with many rooms perfect the travel comfort of these giant passenger liners.

The Cuisine is world famous. The deliciously prepared menus will delight you. And how the orchestra adds zest to your dining.

The decks are spacious. The Glass-enclosed Promenade always popular. Deck sports, open air swimming pool, movies, evening dancing—everything has been done to make your trip a happy one. Unexcelled anywhere—is the courteous and efficient service accorded you by the trained personnel aboard the President Liners.

The great frequency of sailings and the liberal stopover privileges of the Dollar Steamship and American Mail Lines have made these giant passenger liners outstandingly popular among travelers.

PREVENTION OF RABIES.

Moral support of the excellent Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals need not wean one's sympathy from the object of the Ordinance to be introduced into the Legislative Council "for regulating the keeping of dogs and for the prevention of the importation and spread of rabies." As a matter of fact dog lovers ought to welcome the new legislation for the protection of those animals. The periodical cases of rabies in the Colony during the last twelve months illustrates how difficult it is to eradicate this disease in a community such as ours. The long period during which the muzzling orders has been in force demonstrates that stricter measures are essential than ensuring that dogs are either muzzled or led on a string in public places.

One of the most important provisions of the new Ordinance is that exercising control over dogs of all ages. Hitherto puppies under the age of three months have been excluded, merely to suit the convenience of the licensing authorities, but no one has ever sought to contend that puppies are not liable to become infected with rabies or that they are in no wise a danger to any whom they may bite during an epidemic of rabies. In a systematic campaign against rabies there should be very little, if any, criticism of the new powers to be exercised over dogs under three months of age. At the same time, too many people do not realise to the full the horrors of hydrophobia in a human person. Pasteur, if he revolutionised the treatment for this disease, may certainly be blamed indirectly for more general indifference to rabies and hydrophobia than existed before Pasteur Institutes sprang up all over the world. It is the duty of every Health Authority to combat this indifference by stringent regulations ensuring the minimum of risk to the community itself and to local canine life.

There may be some criticism of the regulations attached to the Bill excluding the New Territories (other than New Kowloon)
from the scope of the measure.
Within that area dogs may go abroad neither muzzled nor on the lead. It may be thought that this ought to be countered by the regulation forbidding the bringing of dogs from the New Territories (other than New Kowloon) to any other part of the Colony except with the permission in writing of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon. Apparently the authorities have never heard of the smuggling of dogs from one part of the Colony to another, and have implicit trust in the Chinese to observe the regulations in the letter and the spirit. Several months after the muzzling order came into force unmuzzled, mangy-looking dogs were running wild in Apichau, a hamlet opposite Aberdeen, but nobody seemed to care and nothing was done to prevent such animals being taken by sampan or junk to other parts of the Colony. The same may, for all we know to the contrary, apply to the New Territories (other than New Kowloon), where the facilities for smuggling dogs into other parts of the Colony are much easier—on the Peninsula, at any rate. It may be submitted that the type of dog in the villages of the New Territories is purely and simply watch dogs, the ordinary domestic pet being unknown or rare, and that any muzzling order would be superfluous because of the lack of official staff to secure its enforcement. That in itself does not, however, minimise the menace of rabies there being transmitted to other parts of the mainland.

In other respects, the draft Bill and the regulations under it should be welcomed by all who desire to see rabies definitely stamped out in the Colony. The menace to human beings and to dogs themselves has existed too long already. The public must co-operate to the fullest extent with the authorities if the objective of the new measure is to be reached.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE SCOUT MOVEMENT.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail"]

Sir,—The announcement contained in the "Government Gazette" to the effect that the Hong Kong Branch of the Boy Scouts Association intends to apply to the Legislative Council for a Bill to further and protect the activities of the Scout Movement in Hong Kong is, indeed, welcome news, and one can but hope that this move will do something toward promoting something more than very casual interest taken by the great majority of the local European community in this great movement.

It is sometimes urged by critics of the Boy Scout Movement that an organisation with a General at its head could not fail to be a military organisation, however, well disguised. Sir Robert Baden Powell's reply is that there is no reason why an old circus horse, after he has finished his career in the ring, should not end his life in pulling a baker's cart or some other equally useful "civil" occupation. Since Sir Robert's retirement from the Army every talent that he possesses, every inspiration of that wonderful intellect, all his time and hobbies, and much of his small income have been devoted to the service of the movement of which he is the centre.

That the Boy Scout movement is a great organisation few, I think, will attempt to deny. Its real claim for recognition by every responsible man and woman of whatsoever nationality or creed, however, is seldom realised. At the present time I believe the membership is just over 3,000,000 boys with troops all over the world. In many countries we find responsible public men and women devoting their spare time to the movement, training the boys to think in terms of citizenship, service, brotherhood and peace, instead of in terms of suspicion, avarice, and war. These public-spirited men and women are building up an army of upright and noble citizens and future generations will have cause to thank them.

The brotherhood is a big one, extending, as it does, to every corner of the civilised world. No one can question the wisdom of Governments that view the boys' efforts with sympathy, or of kings who allow their sons to wear the leveling uniform of the Scouts. It is certainly satisfactory to find princes, potentates, prelates and professional men taking an interest in the organisation.

To many, perhaps to most, before the Great War, Scouting may have appeared something like playing at soldiers, whereas there was nothing military in the organisation from top to bottom. Such elementary drill as the boys practised was merely similar in character and purpose to that which children were taught at school to enable them to move in numbers when necessary without confusion or delay, and the idea of compulsory discipline—without which even the German Army itself would have been a helpless mob—was so foreign as to be almost antagonistic to the first principles of Scouting.

In none of the ten laws which hold 200,000 Scouts together at the outbreak of the War as an active association in full working order was there a single "must" or "shall." Indeed, even to call them "laws" was almost a misuse of the word, for each was a mere statement of what a Scout is or what he does, with no mention of anything of what a Scout was obliged to do.
Law 8—"A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others," comes nearest to any other to an ordinance, but Law 8—"A Scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties" is the sheet anchor of the movement.

Looking down the long list—I believe there are a hundred or more —of the badges which Boy Scouts are encouraged to win, one is struck by the complete absence of any test which seems even indirectly military. Although that of a "handy-man" might be suspected of a naval meaning, its tests of pro-sody include such things as white-washing a ceiling, repairing gas-mantles, hanging pictures, putting up blinds, etc. One might wonder what all these things had to do with Scouting, but the most superficial investigation of the movement shows that the title of Scouts was little more than one layer of the sugar-coating on the wholesome pill of moral training, others being the picturesque uniform, the numerous badges, and the self-government.

Yours, etc.
L. E. HAYNES

A GOLDEN JUBILEE.

BOOKKEEPER'S 50 YEARS' SERVICE.

OFFICE PRESENTATION.

An event of uncommon interest was celebrated at the Office of Messrs. Gibb, Livingston & Co., at noon on Saturday when Mr. Leopoldo E. Ozorio, bookkeeper, completed his 50th year of continuous service with the firm. To mark the occasion members of the firm in Hong Kong and Mr. Ozorio's associates in the office contributed for a gift for presentation to Mr.
Ozorio. The presentation was made by Mr. L. J. Davies, principal of the firm in Hong Kong. Mr.
Davies tendered congratulations to Mr. Ozorio upon his completion of that day of his long association of fifty years with Messrs. Gibb, Livingston & Co.—an association which was marked not only by its many years but by duties efficiently and faithfully carried out. He wished Mr. Ozorio many more years of health and happiness and hoped that he would remain with the firm so that he might have the pleasure of attending the centenary in 1936 of Messrs. Gibb, Livingston
& Co.'s establishment in China.
He concluded by asking Mr.
Ozorio's acceptance of the gift which had been subscribed for by his friends and associates in the office.

Mr. Ozorio briefly acknowledged and thanked his chief for the presentation and the kind words spoken of himself.

Fifty Years.

It is not in the gift of many men to possess such a splendid record of service as that which has been achieved by Mr. L. E. Ozorio.
In the whole history of the Colony so far only two other similar cases have been recorded; they were those of the late Mr. E. H. d'Aquino, I.S.O., in the service of the Hong Kong Government, and Mr. R. J. Remedios who died in January last after being for 51 years in the employ of the Mercantile Bank of India, Ltd.

Mr. L. E. Ozorio is an old pupil of St. Joseph's College and on leaving school on the October 29, 1877, became apprenticed in the office of Messrs. Gibb, Livingston & Co. in Hong Kong. It is a singular feature of his service that for fifty years he has kept continually at his desk in the Hong Kong office and only for a very short period of one month during half a century was he kept away through illness.

A Splendid Record.

From a junior clerkship in 1877 he was gradually promoted in the office until in 1902 he was placed in greater responsibility and in a position of trust by taking charge of the books of the Hong Kong Electric Co., Ltd., a duty which he performed until 1921. For three years after that he was given charge also of the books of the British Borneo Timber Co., Ltd.

In addition to and concurrently with the above duties for forty years from 1877 up to this day he has been the firm's trusted bookkeeper. During the whole of the fifty years in the employ of the firm his only leave of absence was for a period of one month.

Former Chiefs.

Mr. Ozorio has worked successively under Mr. Hugh Bold Gibb,
Mr. Henry Lowcock, Mr. A. G.
Wood, Mr. B. Layton, Mr. W. H.
F. Darby, Mr. C. S. Sharp, Mr. J.
W. C. Bonnar, Mr. C. Gordon Mackie and Mr. A. O. Lang and holds personal testimonials from his former chiefs of their own satisfaction with the manner in which he has carried out his duties. His present chief is Mr. L. J. Davies.

Mr. Ozorio's father was the late Mr. C. J. Ozorio who was also one of the staff of the firm but saw service in Canton at the time of the passing of the stirring "Hong" days in that great centre of the China trade in the middle of the last century. One of Mr. Ozorio's brothers, the late Mr. C. F. Ozorio, was also employed in the Hong Kong office 54 years ago, while another brother, Mr. E. C. Ozorio, who left Hong Kong and joined the Shanghai office, worked there for over 25 years until his death.

WIND SLOT DEVICE.

IMPORTANT AIRCRAFT DEVELOPMENT.

London, Yesterday.
A new Handley Page wind slot

perial Airways with a view to its tability to all types of services with a

ground, handing over important portfolios to the Leftist politicians. As he did towards the Ironsides, General Li will feel his way with Mr. Wang and then attempt gradually to regain full control.

However, there is much good that Mr. Wang can accomplish in Kwangtung, with the goodwill and support of General Li.

How Friction May Arise.

The only questions on which friction may arise are:—

1.—Whether Canton is to support Hankow or Nanking, or remain neutral; or

2.—differences as to civil and military powers in the Government.

It will be recalled that Mr. Wang had just consented to go to Nanking for a peace conference when war was declared on General Tang Seng-chi of Hankow. Mr. Wang then left Hankow and did not go to Nanking. The possibility is that he does not agree with Nanking and it is hardly likely that he sympathises with Hankow as General Tang Seng-chi stood in the way of a re-union which would have meant restoration of the several councils which run the Kuomintang.

Defences Improved.

Canton has given orders to a number of units to concentrate at Shui-kwan for a march into Hunan, in support of Nanking against General Tang Seng-chi. It should be borne in mind, however, that although some of these units are on the move, no "act of war" has yet been made.

Observers are of the opinion that the order for concentration was only a blind for a series of transfers whereby General Li Chai-sum improved the defence of Kwangtung province at vulnerable points, at the same time settling the Ironsides in such a position that they must obey him.

If Mr. Wang Ching-wei is ready to work on a policy that in no wise clashes with Li Chai-sum's interests, he will have to sacrifice his own theories. If he persists on lines detrimental to the man with the army behind him, then Mr. Wang has a difficult time ahead of him: "Suddenly Turned Leftist."

Further troop movements in all parts of the province are reported. General Li Fook-lum (5th Army) of Honan is stated to be definitely sending the bulk of his men up the North River to Shui-kwan but political circles do not think that he will be ordered further north.

From Swatow comes an interesting report that Rightist politicians have been arrested by a subordinate of General Li Chai-sum who is also a Rightist. There must be something behind the scenes as it is difficult to view the arrests as in the light of General Li having suddenly turned Leftist on the return of Mr. Wang Ching-wei.

Attitude Unknown.

The "Kung Sheung Yat Po" (Industrial and Commercial Daily Press) refers to messages which are stated to have been sent by Mr. Wang Ching-wei to the Nanking Government.

From these it is not clear what Mr. Wang's attitude is but it is believed that his return to Canton is (1) to reconcile the conflicting interests of General Li Chai-sum and General Chang Fah-hui (of the Ironsides) and (2) to persuade Canton from sending an expedition against Hunan (which is held by General Tang Seng-chi).

Shanghai Opinion.

Shanghai, Yesterday. There are persistent reports in Chinese circles that Mr. Wang Ching-wei has gone to Canton for the purpose of inaugurating a new government of Canton independent of the present so-called Nationalist Government.

In Canton he would be able to rely on the support of Madame Sun Yat-sen and other members of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen's family, though whether this includes General Chiang Kai-shek cannot be ascertained at present.—Reuter.

LOCAL WEDDING.

MR. ALLAN CHAPMAN AND MISS MELVILLE.

The marriage between Miss Lillian Donaldson Melville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Melville, of Arbroath, and Mr. Allan Chapman, son of Mr. Allan Chapman and the late Mrs. Chapman, also of Arbroath, was solemnised at Union Church, Kowloon, on Saturday last, the Rev. J. Horace Johnston, B.A., officiating. Miss M. Gourley was bridesmaid and Mrs. D. F. Warren matron of honour.

The bride wore a dress of white figured crepe, de Chine, trimmed with silver beads and black satin hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was given away by Mr. D. F. Warren and Mr. J. C. Long was best man. There was a reception at the Station Hotel, Kowloon, after which the couple departed for Macao for the honeymoon.

Debtor attributed much of the failure to make headway in connection with the Cafe to the action of the Police who cut their licence for a period.

The Official Receiver commented that, even when the licence was renewed the Cafe still failed to pay. Debtor persisted that the Cafe would have paid if it had continued.

The Best Month.

Mr. Agassiz pointed out that in the best month, that of August, the receipts had been $9,677 and the expenses, exclusive of rent, had been $10,877.

Debtor admitted that the loss in respect of the Beauty Parlour had been $3,214. In respect of the Au Chic Parisien there had been a small profit of $3,149. The grocery shop in Ice House Street had lost $9,760. This, debtor also attributed to the action of the Police in cutting the licence.

Cleaning Machinery.

Debtor was also examined with regard to the introduction of machinery in connection with Brender's system of boiler tube cleaning, a French process which debtor had endeavoured to introduce to the Colony. Debtor stated that a demonstration had been arranged but the process had only been tried on one ship as people did not seem to understand the value of the process. The total expenses incurred in connection with the introduction of the process were about $16,000, this including the machinery, the air compression, and tools made by the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company. The return from the machinery had been nil because (according to the debtor) it took a long time for people to realise the value of a new thing however good.

Mr. Agassiz drew debtor's attention to the fact that in his statement of affairs he valued the machinery at $16,000 and asked if he really thought that there was the slightest possibility of such an amount being realised by its sale. Debtor replied that there was "if only people could be brought to understand it."

Agent in China.

Debtor continued that he was agent for the machinery and process, throughout China. He had not sold any throughout China as he did not want to. It was his intention to form a Company for using it.

Mr. Agassiz commented that the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company placed a very different value on the machinery than that of the debtor. In filing a proof of debt they had valued it at scrap price, at $145.

Debtor protested that this was absurd, and again referred to the difficulty of the system being fully appreciated.

His Lordship: It seems to me that you are the only one in China to understand the process.

Debtor replied that it might be in some cases that it would not pay other people to understand. If boiler tubes were rendered fit for many years by the process, there would be loss of business.

Mme. Flint's Bonds.

Debtor was also examined with regard to a claim made against the Societe Commerciale Asie Africaine in Paris. The amount claimed by debtors from this firm was $23,000.

Asked to explain this, debtor said that an amount had been deposited in bonds owned by Madame Flint with the firm in question as security for goods. Trouble had arisen and business ceased. The amount was still due from the firm and there was an action pending.

Debtor was also examined as to an amount claimed from Velasco and Company in Manila and stated that it was their intention to open a shop in Manila but to avoid heavy Customs duties they were to do business through Velasco and Company. The firm has gone into liquidation and owes them that amount.

Mr. Agassiz said he understood that there was a counterclaim and that this would only just balance what was claimed by debtors.

Debtor was also examined regarding a scheme which he was said to have had in mind for running a taxi service in Canton and in connection with which he stated he had been approached whilst in Canton on other business. The understanding was that $400,000 was to be deposited in Hong Kong and debtor was to supervise the bringing out of cars, the setting up of a workshop, etc. The full amount of $400,000 had not been raised. Of that amount $200,000 had been paid into a French bank in Hong Kong.

A Taxi Deal.

Asked how it was that he had been brought into the affair at all, debtor stated that he had considerable knowledge of French firms and had been intimately connected with the introduction of Citroen cars into Hong Kong as taxis. If the Canton deal had gone through he was to get $65,000.

Mr. Agassiz suggested that if all the people concerned in touch with the firm in France it might be possible for him to carry out and get some money for creditors in the present bankruptcy.

Debtor replied that the scheme had dropped through as it was stated that innocent money had been forthcoming. But he thought that rumours of the affairs of the Cafe and other concerns had been going on with it.

Insurance Money.

Debtor was also questioned with regard to the disposal of insurance money received as a result of the fire on the premises above the Cafe. The amount of $72,000, he stated, had been paid to Deacons who were the agents of the Insurance Company. Deacons had paid $25,000 to Mrs. Stephens for an overdraft, $11,000 to Lammer Bros. for goods bought back and $27,000 to the Cafe itself.

Mr. Agassiz drew debtor's attention to the fact that $80,000 of the money advanced by Mrs. Stephens was paid into debtor's own bank account. What, he asked, had become of it?

Debtor replied that $10,000 had been paid to the compradore of the Cafe as return of his security. It was paid into his account because he wished to use the money for a scheme for providing Kwangchowwan with electric light. He had tendered for the scheme and had gone to considerable expense in the matter but the contract had been given to a French firm in Hanol, on the grounds he understood that they did not wish "British" capital in a French colony.

Asked what experience he had had as an electrical engineer debtor stated that he himself had none but he had a Belgian electrical engineer who had considerable knowledge of such schemes.

Debtor admitted that a few thousand dollars had been lost in this scheme.

Personal Expenses.

Debtor was also examined regarding his and Madame Flint's personal expenses. They had lived and taken their food at the premises and, in spite of the fact that for fifteen months this had cost them nothing, their other expenses in Hong Kong during the period in question had been $17,000. In addition to this considerable expense had been incurred in Shanghai.

In conclusion, debtor admitted that something like $216,000 had been lost in the various enterprises but claimed that the Cafe and other premises were worth $200,000. Debtor complained of their having been sold for "practically nothing" and, addressing His Lordship when the latter announced that the public examination was closed, announced dramatically "I should like to apply for my discharge right away."

His Lordship: You won't get it. Debtor: I am very sorry then.

Madame Flint.

Madame Flint was then examined and stated that she had been an employee for five years and had managed her own dress-making business for twenty years. She had heard what Mr. Durand had said and agreed that it was perfectly correct. The bonds which had been mentioned as deposited with the firm in Paris were her own which she had purchased out of the profits of her business ten years ago. Up to the time of the boycott, the profits from her business had been good, averaging between $10,000 and $14,000 a year. She had taken Mr. Durand into partnership because she had known the family and him personally for twenty-six years and she wanted someone to help her to turn the business into a Company and extend it considerably.

Mr. Agassiz: You apparently did not want additional capital, as he brought nothing into it.

Debtor continued that she moved from China building because of the complaints of customers as to coolies in the lift and outside her door. The coolies were being examined at an adjoining office which was concerned with immigration. After the move into Pedder Building she got into financial difficulties.

Late Mr. Stephens. Debtor stated that she went to live with Mrs. Stephens towards the end of 1925. She had known Mrs. Stephens for many years, ever since she came to Hong Kong twenty-six years ago.

Mrs. Stephens was not well and required a good deal of attention and debtor had to sacrifice a great deal of her business time to attend to her. Mrs. Stephens had helped her financially and debtor had held power of attorney from her. The gifts of money from Mrs. Stephens had been written and signed by her.

Questioned with regard to any financial gifts from herself to a daughter in Paris, debtor said that she sent her a 18,000 franc bond and on the occasion of her marriage had given her a 90,000 franc dowry.

This concluded the public examination.

Before Mr. R. E. Lindell at the Central Magistracy this morning, an Indian constable charged an elderly Chinese woman with the unlawful possession of two trunks of trees which she was seen carrying down the hillside at Pokfulam. Denying the charge, the woman said that the constable accepted her and demanded 50 cents. As she had no money to give, the constable tore her dress up, and then forced her to pick the logs up from the side of the road and carry them to the police station where he charged her with theft of the wood. The Magistrate did not believe the woman and ordered her to pay a fine of $10, for in default to go to jail for 14 days. She stated to the 14 days.

"NOT SO DUMB."

CONFIDENCE TRICKSTER JAILED.

At last a confidence trickster has been brought to book. He pulled the well known trick on a Chinese woman yesterday, and secured jewellery worth $70 in exchange for a supposed bundle of banknotes which he asked the woman to change for him as he was a stranger to the Colony and did not know his way about. As usual the bundle only contained waste paper.

The would-be thief promised to wait for the woman whilst she went to the money changers, but this time he met his Waterloo for the woman was not as "dumb" as she looked. She, unknown to the "stranger" asked a friend whom she met on the way to keep an eye on the man while she went to change the money, and when the man made to move away, the friend raised the alarm. A detective came on the scene and the thief was arrested. A search was made of his person but the woman's jewellery was not found.

Detective Sub-Inspector Andrews told Major C. Willson at the Central Magistracy this morning that when questioned at the station, the accused said that he had passed the jewellery to another man who had gone to Canton with the valuables. The accused having pleaded "guilty," Inspector Andrews proved a previous conviction for a similar offence some time ago, and the Magistrate passed sentence of three months' jail.

IN THE NEWS.

ITEMS FROM TO-DAY'S POLICE REPORTS.

A Chinese chauffeur was yesterday attacked at Repulse Bay and severely bitten by two dogs which went for him simultaneously. He had to go to the Government Civil Hospital for treatment. Both dogs have not been captured.

A Japanese geisha named Hisano Shinnu, aged 23, died early this morning as the result of severe head injuries received through accidentally falling from the second floor verandah of the Chitose Hotel, Wanchai. Death was instantaneous, and the body was removed by the police to the public mortuary.

A report has been made to the police by the coxswain of the motor boat "George Bing I" that at 2.30 a.m., yesterday he took four European males in his boat across the harbour from Hong Kong to Kowloon. When his launch was near the wharf at Kowloon, a motor launch which was running clear of the Bing boat suddenly changed her course for no apparent reason, and collided with the other boat on the starboard side, causing damage to the extent of $200. The Bing boat succeeded in making the wharf and the Europeans were landed without incident.

Suffering injuries to his spine as the result of a bale of blankets falling on him while at work in the Kwong Yik godown, at Kennedy Town, a coolie had to be removed to the Government Civil Hospital for treatment.

A Chinese woman living in an unnumbered house in Kunchung village, Kowloon, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by jumping into the harbour near the Yumai ferry wharf at Kowloon. She was rescued by boat people, and the police took charge of her and removed her to the Kwong Wah Hospital.

Mr. Murdoch, of No. 29A, Kennedy Road, reported to the police yesterday that while he was driving motor car No. 1883 on the Tai Po Road a Chinese crossed the road in front of the car near the railway crossing off Namchung Street. Mr. Murdoch had swerved his car to pass behind the man, when the Chinese hesitated in the middle of the road and then ran back to the point where he had started from. Mr. Murdoch did not have time to avoid the man, and he was struck by one of the car's head lights. The Chinese, who suffered a cut in his leg, was removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital.

The Chinese driver of a hand truck was this morning charged before Mr. R. E. Lindell at the Central Magistracy with driving the truck down Water Street, West Point, with the shafts on the ground, thus causing ruts on the ground. When the accused admitted the offence, the Magistrate asked him what he thought his brakes were for. Accused said that he did apply the brakes, but the incline was steep and the load heavy, and he was unable to control the truck. Remarking that that was nonsense, that if the accused's brakes were in order there was no need to have the shafts on the ground at all, Mr. Lindell imposed a fine of $5.

SOCCER REVIEW.

Steady Advance of the Chinese Athletic Team.

GOSANO'S BRILLIANCE.

Thrilling Match At King's Park.

SOUTH CHINA AND POLICE ADVANCE.

[By "Rover."]

Saturday's games were productive of some fine football and the results, with the exception of South China v. K.O.S.B.'s and Police v. Queen's Regiment, panned out very much as expected.

At the Valley the R.G.A. held the clever Chinese Athletic well, and if the R.G.A. had turned over one up no one would have been surprised. The R.G.A. played very spiritedly in the first half and made the ball the objective, and quite shared the honours in the first half, Leach having hard lines with one real effort. The Reserve forward opened the scoring for the Athletic in the second half, and with the encouragement of this goal, we had ten minutes of the Athletic at their best, and their clever inside right scored a goal which spectators like to see. The R.A. however did not go down quietly, but had to submit to superior all round cleverness and the Athletic added to their strong lead in the League by another valuable two points. The Athletic will be beaten, but the team which lowers their colours, will require to be strong in every department, and what is just as important the ball must be played always, because the Chinese are extremely active and have benefited by their Australian experience, where they had to play against much heavier teams. The team is evenly balanced, with a very sound half back line, probably the strongest part of the team, and will only be beaten by forwards who can pick up first chances and stay the pace the whole time.

South China are also to be congratulated on a much improved display, but the K.O.S.B. regiment had one of those poor patches which all teams suffer from, but even so the Regimental side were, on the play, the better side, and on many occasions had hard luck in not scoring, the result however being an encouragement to the local side, who have had to work very hard for points this season.

The game of the day was at King's Park where the 'Scots' Guards owing to a postponed fixture with the Hong Kong Club opposed the Recreio and from the kick off the atmosphere was such as delights the football spectator. The Guards are probably the finest side in point of physique in the League, but Recreio made up for the lack of pounds in weight, by exceedingly clever football. The opening exchanges were very exciting and at one time half a dozen of the players in a great assault on the Guards goal, were mixed up with the spectators on the line. From end to end the play was transferred at a great pace, and one man stood head and shoulders above his conferees, on the day's play. Rarely has Gosano been seen to such advantage. Following a great effort to score, which resulted in Gosano retiring for ten minutes, the Recreio played a very bright game and gave the Scots' defence many anxious times. In the second half the Recreio forwards dominated the game and rapidly turned a 1 goal deficit into a two goal advantage chiefly through brilliant individual dashes by Gosano who scored 3 goals. The Scots Guards are a fine built team, but will have to adapt themselves to the size of their opponents, as they appeared slow off the mark and much of their kicking was wild and much too powerful. Many promising movements were spoiled by hard kicking, and the ball was not kept on the ground enough. The Scots Guards long passing appeared crude, compared to the quicker movements of their nipper opponents and many passes amongst the forwards were very wild and ill-judged. With their advantages the Guards should however settle down into a strong side but their combination will require improving.

Kowloon came out of their shell and had a day out against the R.A.F., whom they defeated very decisively, and Sims must have been very satisfied with the way his well judged passes were taken up by the forwards on Saturday, who got quickly into their stride, and with Andy Duncan and Frank Reed coming back into the side shortly, Kowloon are optimistic of their future progress.

Hudson's reappearance in the Police team has made a distinct improvement in the side's general play and the Police are improving each week and at full strength will be a difficult team to beat. The Queen's on Saturday were not at full strength but this does not detract from the bright display of the Police team who followed their win over Kowloon with two points from the Chatham Road Regimentals, points which other teams will find difficult to obtain.

Altogether the standard of football shown on Saturday was of a good order, and as Hong Kong has to send a representative Interport team to Shanghai this year the form shown so far by probable selections in the Interport Team is highly encouraging, many of the old favourites having started the Season in great form, and there is much promising new talent coming along which will demand consideration when the final selections are made. Altogether the season promises to be a very eventful one, and with the local Chinese Team displaying such fine form and already commanding a good leading position, later matches in which they engage will be intensely interesting. I am inclined to think if the local British teams, particularly the Regimental ones, are not depleted by exigencies of the Service before the season is completed, that the strong positions now occupied in the League Table by Chinese Athletic and Club de Recreio will be seriously challenged, but this will only be accomplished by strict training and combined team work.

The Kosbies kicked off and play was generally equal, with China on the defensive against the pushful tactics of the Army men.

The defence on both sides was superior to the attack, the game throughout being extremely speedy. Towards the latter end of the first half China made a great run down and a miskick by the Kosbies' left back made an opening which was checked by the goalkeeper.

Play was transferred and the best of the game was with the soldiers who were pressing the advantage of weight at half-time without score.

On the resumption, play ranged up and down, with both goals alternately in danger, the most of the game being in the China half.

A corner against China was cleared and from transferred play, Ng, after an individual run, put wide. China came again and a corner against the Kosbies saw Lai put wide behind. China's subsequent attack found the Kosbie defence in great shape, Gardner and Martin defending ably. Everest at right half was always in the picture but a movement by this player resulting in a corner brought no fruit.

China then had a turn but Anderson saved with ease. Play suddenly changed and McGlinchy putting in a head-sure centre from close to the corner flag, Stock put his foot to the ball and diverted into the goal leaving the keeper no chance.

LOCAL BOXING.

Lake Wins Lightweight Championship.

FULL DISTANCED BOUT.

A Good Night's Sport.

[By "The Tramp."]

The local boxing season opened in fine style at the Theatre Royal on Saturday night, when the Hong Kong Boxing Association staged the first tournament. There were six contests, including one for the lightweight championship of the Colony and a new Scott Harston Belt. It was won by Stoker Percy Lake, H.M.S. "Dunbar" after fifteen hard if not very interesting rounds with Pte. Nixon, of the 38th M.T. Company. It was not an inspiring fight, though Ike deserved his victory. Both men were tired but otherwise unharmed at the end of the bout. The Stoker showed himself speedier, but neither had much of a punch.

The other fights were above the average. The second-liner, a scheduled ten round fair between Stoker Britt, of H.M.S. "Dunbar," and Stoker King, of Submarine L4, ended suddenly in the second round in a curious manner which I describe below. There was one knock-out, Sgt. Lamont of the local police taking the count from Stoker Sharples of H.M.S. "Ambrose." The other fights went the distance. The Kosbies put three men in the ring and got away with one win, a draw and a defeat. H.M.S. "Ambrose" had a win and a draw, H.M.S. "Dunbar" two wins out of twenty, the R.A.S.C. (not counting the championship bout) a win, and the Scots Guards a defeat.

Below is my ringside description of the contests:—

THE BIG FIGHT.

Lake The Quicker.

Stoker Percy Lake, H.M.S. "Dunbar" v. Pte. Nixon, 38th M.T. Co., R.A.S.C.—Nixon stripped the bigger man. There was some open sparring, with first blood to the M.T. man, who displayed a hardy straight left. Half way through the round Lake landed a left swing to the side of the head which sat Nixon on the canvas. He came straight up, however, and attacked fast. Towards the end Lake was cautioned. The second opened swiftly, Lake being the aggressor. There was not much in it, however, and after some even exchanges, they broke even. Lake brought a clever left into play in the third, aiming for the body, getting away from the countering blows by nice ducking. At this stage he was much faster than Nixon, who seemed to be waiting for something. It was Lake's round. The fourth saw both men taking punishment in the clinches and, in the open, Lake was beating his man to the punch, and getting home three sound hits to Nixon's one. Lake's round by a mile.

The fifth was slow at the outset, the sailor holding off. Nixon, however, developed no line of attack, and the men broke even. Nixon bore in in the next and scored three times with stinging body blows without response. Lake was not showing any of his earlier dash, and the round, if anything, went to the M.T. man. In the seventh, after Nixon had slipped, Lake was again cautioned for foul hitting. Some even slams followed, and again a level round resulted.

Good Straight Left. Lake was wild in the next and had to take some punishment, though his straight left served him in good stead from time to time. There was nothing much in it.

The ninth saw some hefty hitting, Nixon displaying the greater power, though Lake was still quicker. Nobody's round at the end. Nixon used a right to the body to advantage in the tenth, but here it was Lake began to liven up, dancing in with rights and lefts which, however, lacked power. Nixon had his man on the ropes twice in the eleventh but did not seem to have the strength to follow up.

Round twelve was even, both men showing the effects of the slogging, as was the next. The fourteenth was slow, both men obviously tired, and in the last both tried to make a fight of it. There was nothing much between the men at the end. Lake was declared the winner. A popular verdict. Mr. J. Scott Harston presented the Lightweight Championship Belt to the winner amidst general applause.

Win for the Piper. Piper Smith, K.O.S.B. (154) v. Cpl. George, Scots Guards (170)—This "light-heavy" contest opened fairly fast, with the Guardsman the main aggressor.

There was some amusement when he chased his opponent right across the ring, but failed to catch him. The second round was lively, the "little" bringing the big Guardsman to the ground with a blow to the stomach. The belated any further punishment. The Kosbie continued the offensive in the third and the fourth was even. The next was livelier, the Kosbie running wild, though not doing much damage. He deservedly got the verdict, however, after six rounds.

Policeman Loses. Sgt. Lamont, H.K. Police (143) v. Stoker Sharples, H.M.S. "Ambrose" (148). Lamont opened quickly, and with the advantage of a couple of inches in height and reach, landed some telling blows to the face. Sharples was willing to mix things, however, and seemed the stronger. The first round belonged to the sailorman by a fair margin. Sharples showed more science in the second and, with some round arm blows to head, weakened his man. A left uppercut to the chin put the policeman out.

A Draw. Cpl. Frame, K.O.S.B. (155) v. L. S. Wilson, H.M.S. "Ambrose" (153½).—A quick opening with much body work, both playing for the stomach. An even round. In the second Frame bore in and would not leave the sailor on an occasion forcing his lead through the ropes. The sailor sportingly walked away. The end of the round saw both men tiring quickly, with Frame if anything, slightly fresher. The third was one long get-together, the men not separating once, though there was no actual holding. Both were tired at the end of it. Fighting of a more open order was seen in the fourth, in the course of which Wilson took an amount of punishment. Both were hitting wildly in the open. They broke even; Frame came up confidently for the fifth, then having a short lead on points, and walked into his man. (After a warning to both men from the referee, there was some mixing and both finished weak. The last round opened with some free exchanges but Frame was soon back on top of his man. With heads together they jammed at each other's body until the bell went. A draw was a fair decision.

Fine Contest. Pte. Hume, K.O.S.B. (126) v. Pte. Huff, R.A.S.C. (124).—After a quiet opening Hume ran into a left swing which made him slip in a corner, but was up at once and fighting back. Both showed a turn of speed, and the first was even. In the second the Kosbie opened the attack, but Huff was the steeper and seemed to have the harder punch. It was Hume's round, however. There was fast work from both in the third and although Hume attacked consistently, he lacked a punishing punch. Another level round. The fourth saw the R.A.S.C. man opening out and he got home with some hefty, though lucky, swings. Hume was game, and came back every time. The Kosbie took some bad slams to the face in the next, but came up for the last round comparatively fresh against his heavier opponent. Huff did not make the most of his opportunities. It was a rousing finish, the decision going to Huff. Hume got a great "hand."

Britt's Quick Win. Stoker Britt, H.M.S. "Dunbar" (127) v. Stoker Illingworth, Submarine L4 (122½).—First blood to Britt, who got home with two hard lefts to the other's head. The "Dunbar" man revealed he had a fine punch in both hands and had Illingworth sprawling after a minute. The Submarine man did not seem able to get with Britt's peculiar guard. Britt's round two was a surprising one. Britt rushed at his man after some fairly even exchanges, missed him completely and dived through the ropes. Before he could get round to carry on, Illingworth was writhing on the floor, taking the count. Britt was given the fight.

Local golfers will be interested to learn that a new organisation, to be known as the Country Club, is in process of formation. The new Club, it is understood, has secured a fine piece of ground at Sheung Shui beyond Fanling, on which a nine-hole course has already been laid out. This provides, however, for an extension to 18 holes when circumstances permit. It is understood that a formal meeting of those interested will be held in the Club Lusitano today at 5.15 p.m. to consider and pass the proposed constitution and by-laws of the new Club. As the new Club is of an international character, all races and sections of the community being represented, it is considered that the Country Club should have a bright future before it. There is certainly room in the Colony for an international golf Club, and it is to be hoped that the Country Club will have a long and prosperous career before it.

LOCAL SOCCER.

From this point on came with intensified effort but the Kosbie defence was always prepared, Anderson being specially good between the posts. A great chance for an extra goal was missed when Campbell pounced on a dead centre which was foiled in the goal mouth. One minute later Alexander had in a hot one which put the goal keeper to his knees.

Ensued a period of pressure by the Kosbies and only the steady defence of the Chinese saved them from disaster. A free kick set outside the penalty area was clearly saved by See, but the 4. dlers could not be denied as were soon coming again.

Another break by China saw Anderson saving well. Play went to the centre and Chiu getting possession unmarked passed to Lai, who in turn centred and Ip Tak-wa scored the equaliser from close in, the goal resulting from excellent understanding and co-operation on the part of the Chinese front line.

Both teams were on their toes and in close play, China had the best of the exchanges. Kosbies getting possession in midfield, Stock put in a centre which all but baffled See who conceded a corner which was cleared.

In the final stages of play the Kosbies re-assumed the ascendancy and Humphreys hit the post with a weak shot. The final whistle ended with the soldiers pressing badly.

CHINESE ATHLETIC v. R.A.

At Club Ground. Referee: Mr. Baldwin.

Athletic: — Pau; Ng, Lai; Leung, Wong-shui, Lam; Lau-man, L. Y. Koon, W. P. Cheong, Suen and Chan.

R.A.: — Stanton; Trimm; Whittington; McGinty; Fuller; Smith; Ward, Pulford, J. Smith, Leach and Maddocks.

The first half was all in favour of China but shooting was erratic. Trimm at back was the outstanding defender. Ward made tracks for the Chinese goal but was beaten by Ng in the penalty area. Trimm and Whittington conceded corners under pressure.

J. Smith, with an open goal was smothered by Lai Yuk-tat. Suen missed at eight yards when play was transferred.

The Army forwards then got going and Leach sent in a stinger which brought Pau full length to grant a corner which was put behind.

Half time: No score.

In the second half, China was again prominent and Chan came through on his own, but Trimm effectually cleared. Suen missed an open goal from close in.

Lau-man came down the wing on his own and with a ground shot, scored the first point when Trimm diverted the ball to put through his own goal.

Within a minute the ball was again in the R.A. net, after a corner by Chan had been centred, but Stanton was beaten before recovery by Lai-wai.

The R.A. then endeavoured to force play, but all their efforts were beaten by the defence. Two corners were given but the China backs were too good.

Pressure was resumed by China and Chan put over the bar. A corner against the R.A. resulted in Chan placing well and Lai won heading through.

The remaining play was without incident, although the R.A. appealed for a doubtful penalty. Full time: China Athletic 3; R.A. 0.

RECREIO v. SCOTS GUARDS.

At King's Park.

A very large and excited crowd were rewarded with a great match at King's Park, the teams lining up as follows:

Recreio: — Silva; Souza, Xavier; Figueiredo, Remedios, Remedios; Assumpcao, Silva, Gosano, Rocha, Brown.

Scots Guards: — Jackson, Hurst, Johnstone; Aird, Scott, McIlven; Wollard, Carswell, McGleish, Hunter, Chapman.

A little delay was caused by the similarity of jerseys but the home Club quickly changed theirs and looked very smart in yellow and green stripes.

The game opened with a great burst by Gosano who was all over a scorer but Johnstone nipped across and saved in the nick of time. The Recreio forwards were early warring the Scots defenders and only good defence kept them out. From a break away by the Scots Guards Carswell scored rather a soft goal, the ball curving in high from a dropping shot which Silva just failed to reach.

Recreio quickly got to the other end and had very hard lines in not scoring. Gosano who was playing at the top of his form, being laid out after a great effort. The clever centre pounced and Recreio were unlucky to turn over one goal down. The second half was very fast and Gosano equalised, and the after Rocha had scored a fine goal from a clever centre by Assumpcao, the Recreio forwards got quite into their stride and Jackson was kept very busy, but Recreio were now on top and Gosano burst through with the best goal of the day.

The Scots made great efforts and scored through Chapman but Recreio were not to be denied and Gosano made to issue certain by scoring another fine goal.

The form of the Guards was disappointing. In goal Jackson was good and Johnstone and Aird were the pick of a shaky defence who kicked to hard.

Chapman all McGleish were the pick of the forwards who were disappointing, being slow off the mark, and the Scots will have to settle down to the local conditions and see the ball on the ground more.

Recreio were without Fuertes played a splendid game and Gosano was brilliant, and on this form he is equal in the Colony. Silvan Brown rendered yeoman service and Remedios at right half and Xavier at left back have never played better. The Recreio were faster and cleverer than the Scots Guards will do better.

Recreio 4; Scots Guards 2.

KOWLOON v. R.A.F.

At Kowloon.

In spite of the strong counter-attraction at King's Park there was a good crowd present when the teams kicked off and the exchanges from the start were very keen.

Kowloon scored through May and R.A.F. retaliated with a nice goal by Fernin. In the second half Kowloon scintillated and May (2) and Miles scored again, the result being a fine win for Kowloon 4 goals to one.

The R.A.F. played pluckily but Kowloon who were at full strength and in their happiest mood gave the airman no rest, and Sims good work bore fruit.

The forwards played a snappy game and combined with excellent judgment. May shone by reason of his goals, but also played well and File, Muir, Sims and Cavelle were the pick of a clever side. Veson was a bright star in the R.A.F. and Welsh, Banks and Williams played well behind, but Kowloon were on their day and well deserved their clever win.

Kowloon 4; R.A.F. 0.

QUEENS REG'T. v. POLICE.

At U.S.R.C. ground. Referee: Mr. Lyson.

The Queen's were without Woodards, their centre forward, and other prominent players, and the Police who were well represented gained a surprise victory by 1 goal to nil.

Division II "A."

RECREIO RES. v. UNIVERSITY.

The meeting of these Junior teams produced a very keen match and Recreio quickly got off the mark with a goal by Souza. Recreio had more of the game but a fine centre by Oppenheim was nicely finished off by the inside right who equalised for the visitors. In the second half Ogley went forward and this put more life into the game but the University scored a fine goal through Tan at centre, putting the University ahead. Recreio were not to be denied and from a fine centre by Fernandez which crossed the goal square Ogley scored close in giving Edwards no chance.

A very keen game ended in a draw. For Recreio Fernandez at back played a good game and Figueiredo, Silva Netto and Ogley worked very hard.

The University were best represented by Oppenheim, Tan and Edwards, and the forwards showed very clever play at times. Result: Recreio 2; University 2.

SOUTH CHINA "B" v. K.O.S.B.

At Sookumpoo. Referee: Sergt. Gmour.

China: — Lam; Tse, Wing; W. Cheung, Leung; Lai, Lo, Ch. Wan (K.C.), Tong.

K.O.S.B.: — McDougall; Gear, Main; Drury, McGee, Spalding; Mojis, Hart, Barres, Craig, Alexander.

China kicked off and the Kosbies were soon pressing, with the result that within four minutes of the start Craig received a swinging pass and put in a cross shot that beat the goalkeeper all the way.

The soldiers' forward line commanded the game, placing the ball with almost mechanical precision. The Chinese goal had many narrow escapes which showed nothing to the advantage of the custodian. With the Chinese backs miscalculating, Craig narrowly missed with a hard driven shot at 30 yards. Followed an on goal shooting with the Chinese goal at the target but no score resulted, the defence backing close to the goal line.

In closely contested play there were a number of free kicks but nothing advantageous resulted to either side. China's safety was personified in the goal keeper. After 20 minutes' play the Chinese made their first break and McDougall was tested for the first time with an easy shot which he had no difficulty in clearing.

With play transferred, offside against the Kosbies relieved pressure, but the soldiers were soon back in enemy territory and a corner belt forced, Hart took the kick without result.

Half time: K.O.S.B. 1, S. China "B" 0.

On the assumption the soldiers again took up the offensive, a corner against China in the first minute being narrowly cleared. Hard driven, Lai conceded another corner which Alexander put behind.

The clearance never went beyond the halfway line, and Barres put in, for a second point, the ball touching Lai's fingers on its way to the far corner.

From the kick off another corner was forced and Morris put behind. China lived up but could not penetrate the Kosbies' defence and Craig put over from a breakaway. Alexander received from Craig, to put over, but China made nothing of these respite and it was all Army until Martin conceded a corner which was easily cleared.

Morris' shot was cleared and Craig returned but Lam was safe between the posts. Drury and McGee both made long distance efforts, these meeting with the same fate. China had a run down but were never effectual, McDougall never being called on.

The Kosbies maintained pressure and after many close calls, Hart put narrowly over. Barres' turn came and this also went close over the cross bar. From a half way free kick, Lam conceded a corner, taken by Morris and put behind from a centred pass. Hart put over. Tse allowed a corner and Alexander put behind.

In spite of the score, the Kosbies were playing out of luck, deserving at least twice as many goals as were scored, on the run of the play. The closing stages of the game saw the Army team shooting in from all angles and distances but missing the objective in the majority of cases by inches only.

SOUTH CHINA "A" v. CHINESE ATHLETIC.

At Club Ground. Referee, Mr. Smith.

The game was all in favour of the Athletic and good goal keeping kept the "A" safe until half way through the first half.

Play ranged up and down and Lau-kau scored with a high shot, registering the only goal of the match.

The Athletic were on top all the way, and it was only erratic shooting which kept the score down to reasonable limits.

ST. JOSEPH'S v. KOWLOON.

St. Joseph's Ground. Referee: Pte Lamb.

Kowloon fielded only ten men and put up a good game against the pushing St. Joseph team, to lose by an odd goal.

Play was generally even despite the handicap of Kowloon's missing player, who joined up after the resumption.

The only goal of the match was scored by Smith in the second half.

Division II "B."

KOWLOON "B" v. SOUTH CHINA ATHLETIC "B."

At Kowloon F.C. ground. Referee: Mr. Blackwood.

As was expected the Kowloon 3rd string were hopelessly beaten by an Athletic side consisting of many players who may be regarded as likely 1st Team Reserves and the Chinese by clever forward play totalled six goals to their opponents' 1, the result being not at all flattering to the winners who were smarter in every department.

Many of the Kowloon juniors showed promising form and will improve with experience. The Athletic "B" were a smart and heavy side and were better in every department.

Kowloon "B" 1; Chinese Athletic 6.

KUNG WOO v. BOY SCOUTS.

South China Ground. Referee: Mr. Presley.

The Kung Woo side were all over the Boy Scouts at the South China ground, Yueng Kum-po scoring three goals in the first half for the Kung Woo.

The Scouts scored early in the second half through Wong Kae-leung, but the Kung Woo forwards continued pressing, with the result that Chau Hon-ling and Chau Yuen-kwan put on one each for the Kung Woo in the later stages of the game, the result being a win for Kung Woo by five goals to one.

ST. JOSEPH'S v. SOUTH CHINA "A."

St. Joseph's Ground. Referee: Mr. Samy.

St. Joseph's had all of the play against South China "A" and Sousa scored in the first half to give the collegians the lead.

It appeared to be all St. Joseph's game until, within the last few minutes of the game, Sui Bing-huen put through to equalize the scores.

MOSLEMS v. SOUTH CHINA "B."

South China Ground. Referee: B. G. M. S. Hutchins.

The game was fairly even throughout with S. China having the best of exchanges.

The Moslems were excellent on the defence and the final result of one goal each was a fair reflex of the play.

AN INTERNATIONAL.

SCOTLAND DRAWS WITH WALES.

A THRILLING GAME.

Wrexham, Saturday.
Playing at Wrexham, Wales drew with Scotland in a soccer match, the score at the close of play being 2-2.

The match was a thrilling one, Scotland leading by two goals to nil at the end of the first quarter of an hour's play.

Gallacher (Newcastle), centre-forward, sent in an unstoppable shot, and Hutton (Blackburn), right-back, also scored from the penalty area.

Just before the interval, Curtis (Cardiff), inside-left, scored with a beautiful low shot, and at half time the score was: Scotland 2, Wales 1.

After the resumption there was some very fast play. Wales on three occasions obtained abortive corners, the goalkeeping was magnificent.

A quarter of an hour from time Len Davis (Cardiff), inside-right, took a low free-kick, which Gibson (Aston Villa), centre-half, turned into his own goal.

The final results, as stated, was a drawn match 2-2.—Reuter.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

CLUB'S GOOD WIN OVER BANK.

A FINE VICTORY.

The annual match between the Club and the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank was played on Saturday afternoon at the Club's ground, Happy Valley. Both teams showed changes, the Club being a man short in the forwards. The Club were in fine fettle and won a good game by 24 points to nil.

Teams:—Club: Backhouse, Pritchard, Bingham, Richard, Sampson; King and Bateman; Andrews, Stephenson, Williams, Coe, Akhurst, Billinghurst, and O'Connor.

Bank: Scott, Nicholson, Streetfield, Moodie, Lee; Mills and Swayne, Moncrieff, Ralke, MacIntyre, Beveridge, Groves, Russell, Jardine, and Mead.

Referee:—Mr. H. G. Hegarty.

In the opening stages the Bank attacked strongly and on one occasion looked like scoring. From a break away Sampson secured possession and running strongly, opened the spring for the Club. Richard converted from the easy position.

Following this the Club forwards carried play to the Bank line, King securing the verdict. Richard's kick at goal was again successful.

Sampson again scored between the posts, Richard converting his third effort.

A nice passing movement by the Club three resulted in King scoring near the posts, but the kick at goal failed.

After this heavy reverse the Bank attacked strongly, but the defence of the Club held out.

Half-time result:—Club: 3 goals, 1 try=18 points. Bank: nil.

On resuming the Club showed the better play all round and a fine run by Pritchard added another try, but the kick at goal went wide.

The Club three again got on the move and after some fine passing King again beat the opposition and scored in a good position. Richard failed with the kick.

Backhouse came into the picture with a nice solo effort, but a timely tackle prevented a score.

Result:—Club: 3 goals, 3 tries=24 pts. Bank: nil.

SCOTS VOLUNTEERS.

ANNUAL INTER-PLATOON GATHERING.

KEEN TUG-OF-WAR.

The third annual inter-platoon athletic sports meeting of the Scottish Company of the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps for the "Kee Cheong" Cup presented by Mr. R. Shewan, was held on the ground of the Central British School at King's Park on Saturday afternoon and attracted quite a good gathering of interested spectators, including many ladies and officers of the H.K.V.D.C.

There were altogether eleven events on the card, including those which were open to the Service men, namely, tug-of-war, Highland fling, and a relay race. These events were well "patronised" and some tough tussles were witnessed, particularly in the tug-of-war when the K.O.S.B. gave the 20th "ack Battery, Royal Artillery, three hard pulls before admitting defeat in the open relay race, the K.O.S.B. teams (they entered two) were too fleet-footed for the Scots Guards and secured both first and second places which went respectively to the K.O.S.B. "B" and "A" Companies. The Highland fling provided the spectators with many a thrill and it was a tough job for those responsible for judging the best three to arrive at a decision.

Keen Competition.
The inter-platoon events produced some keen competition between the 5th and 7th Platoons, who seem to have the majority of the best athletes of the Scottish Company of the Volunteer Corps.

A fine struggle left the championship undecided up to the last event, and finally the 7th Platoon emerged as the top-notchers by the narrow margin of four points, the final totals being 7th Platoon 40 points, 5th Platoon 36 points, and 6th Platoon 10 points. The 7th Platoon, therefore, become the proud holders of the "Kee Cheong" Cup until the next meeting in 1928.

The most outstanding event was the 220 yards dash which had a remarkable finish in that two pairs came in dead heat for first and second places. These were Summers and Bell who broke the tape together only a couple of yards in front of Johnson and Alexander.

The two pairs were as inseparable as the Siamese twins and ran abreast stride for stride from start to finish.

At the conclusion, Mrs. D. Templeton distributed the prizes to the successful competitors and handed over the Championship Cup to the captain of the 7th Platoon team. Afterwards she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, and accorded three very hearty cheers.

The Scottish Company of the H.K.V.D.C. is indebted to the following subscribers to the Prize Fund:—Messrs. D. Templeton, A. K. Henderson, R. M. Dyer, K. E. Greig, G. M. Shaw, A. Stevenson, W. J. Kerr, B. Wylie, W. Russell, C. Bond, J. Fraser, D. Harvey, Sr., A. Allison, P. T. Farrell, K. A. Morrison, G. Duncan, A. Mackenzie, and the St. Andrew's Society.

Other sports which counted points towards the winning of the Championship "Kee Cheong" Cup and have already been decided were:—

Five-a-side Football won by No. 7 Platoon, with No. 6 Platoon as runners-up.

Bowls won by No. 5 Platoon with No. 6 Platoon as runners-up.

Another Reprimand.
Arising out of another case his Lordship reprimanded a creditor who had placed an assistant on the premises of the debtor firm and prevented the disposal of goods after the act of bankruptcy.

The creditor's explanation was that as the partners of the firm had left the Colony he took this measure to safeguard his interests and those of other creditors, but his Lordship emphasised that a creditor had no right to do such a thing and by so doing he might very well come to find his acts regarded with suspicion in consequence.

Echo of the Nam.
Although the assets of a former comrade of the "Ling Nam" were stated to be worth $330,000, his liabilities, $11,000, his Lordship commented that he would

TRUSTEE'S LAPSE.

SATURDAY'S BANKRUPTCY CASE.

MISSING $1,500.

Owing to the numerous small cases before the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday morning, the public examination of Madams Flint and M. Durand in respect of the Cafe Parisien and other businesses was deferred until this morning for a special Bankruptcy Court sitting.

A trustee in charge of the affairs of a debtor firm (the Chan Yig Chee) was censured in the course of one of the cases before the Court for using funds collected in his capacity of trustee for the purpose of financing a private Court action of his own in Canton.

He was ordered by the Chief Justice, Sir H. C. Gollan, to pay the amount involved ($1,501.99) into Court within seven days.

The Official Receiver indicated that the amount received by the trustee and used by him was only discovered when reference was made to the file arising out of an action pending in Canton.

It was discovered that for some considerable time no dividend had been paid and the trustee (Chan Yig-kwong) was shown to have received certain amounts. The trustee was called on for an explanation and stated that there was a certain sum of money due to him personally from the debtor and his guarantor and he had used the money in connection with an action which was being heard in Canton.

It was perfectly clear, said the Official Receiver, that the trustee had no right to use the estate money for his own purposes whether or not he intended to refund it in the event of his action terminating successfully.

His Lordship commented that it was a rather unfortunate matter and the consequences were serious. At this stage all he could do was to order the trustee to pay the amount into Court within seven days.

Another Reprimand.
Arising out of another case his Lordship reprimanded a creditor who had placed an assistant on the premises of the debtor firm and prevented the disposal of goods after the act of bankruptcy.

The creditor's explanation was that as the partners of the firm had left the Colony he took this measure to safeguard his interests and those of other creditors, but his Lordship emphasised that a creditor had no right to do such a thing and by so doing he might very well come to find his acts regarded with suspicion in consequence.

Echo of the Nam.
Although the assets of a former comrade of the "Ling Nam" were stated to be worth $330,000, his liabilities, $11,000, his Lordship commented that he would

a point" in petitioner's favour and allow a receiving order in view of the peculiar circumstances of the case.

The comrade was owed $30,000 by the owners of the "Ling Nam" which ship was a by the owners who had no means of paying off debts. Petitioner had incurred the debts mentioned largely on account of his inability to get anything from his former employers.

His Lordship commented that he knew something of the circumstances and as it was a very hard case he would make a receiving order.

Debtors In Prison.
His Lordship adjourned an application for the release of two debtors who were now in prison and whose attendance at Canton was stated to be necessary if certain claims to assets could be substantiated.

LOCAL CRICKET.

FIRST INTERPORT TRIAL.

ONE SIDED GAME.

The first of the series of cricket trial matches was played on the Club ground on Saturday between sides led by Sayer and Pearce. Sayer's team had first knock, but could do little against Dale, Wales and Hankey, all of whom were in fine form with the ball. Goodwin, of the K.C.C., was top scorer with 22 and Hayward collected 20.

Hunt and Hankey opened the innings for Pearce's side, but the latter was soon bowled by Reed who showed flashes of his old form. Ramsay joined Hunt and some good batting was seen. Both scored freely all round the wicket. Hunt, especially doing some very pretty shots. After a well played 68 and 42 respectively both retired.

For one reason or other, only nine men turned out for both sides. However, Leach of Shanghai Interport XI, and a couple filled the gaps for each side when fielding.

The only League game in the senior division between the I.R.C. "A" and the Chinese R.C. resulted in a win for the Sookumpoo lads. Ismail and Madar for the winners played stylish cricket for their 50 and 45, respectively.

Two games were played in the junior division—the Kowloon v. H.M.S. "Tamar" match resulted in a draw, whilst in the only other game the "Varsity" lads proved too strong for the R.A.O.C. Kermani for the students had the distinction of scoring the first League century of the season.

The results and scores of the games were as follow:—

C.R.C. v. I.R.C. "A."

The Chinese R.C. were at home to the Indians "A" on Saturday and were badly beaten by 7 wickets and 101 runs. The Indians batted first and scored 187 for the loss of only 7 wickets when their innings was declared closed. Ismail (S.A.R.) played good cricket for his 50, timing beautifully and placing with good judgment. Madar scored 45 in a stylish innings.

The home team could only collect 86—Ching contributing an invaluable 30.

KOWLOON v. H.M.S. "TAMAR"

Playing on the K.C.C. ground, this match was left drawn on account of falling light. The home team had first knock and Lee was unfortunate in being dismissed when only four short of a century. He was ably backed up by Raven who contributed 72 in good style.

The sailors replied with 120 for 5 wickets when stumps were drawn. Bradley with 48 was highest scorer for his side.

WING ON'S TRADE.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY BY LATE STAFF.

CASE FOR ASSIZES.

At the Central Magistracy on Saturday Mr. R. E. Lindsell decided to commit F. Chan to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions on a charge of conspiring with one Yeung (deceased) and others to ruin the trade of the Wing On Company by securing by unlawful means the transfer of a part of the business of Wing On's Ship Chandlery Department to a new firm styled "F. Chan and Company" which the accused opened in Gilman Street.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin prosecuted on behalf of the Wing On Company, while the accused was represented by Mr. M. K. Lo.

Copied Wing On's Prices.

In cross-examination, accused told Mr. Jenkin that "F. Chan and Company's" price list was drawn up by him and he copied the names of goods from a pencilled list of Wing On's marked "Dollar-June" which he took from a drawer in Yeung's desk. He also copied Wing On's prices to facilitate his work.

Mr. Jenkin suggested that accused copied Wing On's prices in order to undercut them, and accused agreed that that was so, and added that his prices were the same as Wing On's 1926 prices. The two paragraphs setting forth terms at the end of his firm's price lists the accused also admitted were identical with those on Wing On's price lists. He claimed that he had drafted those terms for Wing On's and had kept a copy of them for his own reference.

Mr. Jenkin concluded his examination of the accused by saying that it was a remarkable coincidence that the accused's price list should have reached Mr. Wilson of the Shipping Company on July 12, the same day that Wing On's increased prices were received.

Coincidence not Extraordinary.

Replying to Mr. Lo, the accused said the coincidence was not extraordinary, as since the commencement of these proceedings against him, he had discovered that two other firms had sent in tenders on that same date (July 12). One of these was the Cheong Fat Kay firm of Li Yuen Street, West. On July 18 he knew for the first time that Wing On's had sent in their new price list to the Shipping Company. He learned of this from Mr. Wilson. Prior to July 18 he did not know for sure that Wing On's had submitted their raised prices, though he suspected it. It was not until July 23 or 24 that he actually saw Wing On's new price list.

Mr. Lo then submitted to his Worship that the accused had given a complete answer to every charge that had been brought against him, and said that there was nothing to sustain the case for the prosecution before a jury and justify their returning a verdict against the accused. Even if such a verdict were returned, Mr. Lo suggested that it would be based on such uncertain ground that it would not be upheld in the Appeal Court and was bound to be reversed.

Mr. Lindsell decided to commit the accused for trial.

The motor taxi cabs have caught on in Bangkok, and are cheaper and faster than rickshaws. For three pence halfpenny a mile one can travel any distance, and the owner drivers are always willing to bargain with a fare. A driver who asks for a tical fare will do the journey for eighty cents. Fares at night are slightly higher, and one can take one's choice from a baby Austro, large six seater. The owners here are making a living by it, but the number of hire cars on the street is increasing daily and as in the search for fares they wander up and down the streets the congestion of Bangkok's narrow thoroughfares threatens to become worse rather than better.

MALARIA AND ITS EFFECTS.

During the Great War many soldiers who escaped gas, bullets and death returned home with health shattered by disease. To sufferers from malarial fever, one of them, Mr. Ellis Jones, of 54 Grove Park, Colwyn Bay, will be of especial interest.

"It was in 1916, when I was out in Mesopotamia, that I had the first attack of malaria," explained Mr. Jones in an interview. "I came back to England very weak and ill. My health declined rapidly, and added to the attacks of malaria were the miseries of nervous debility and low spirits. I had pains in the head, and could seldom get a good night's sleep. My appetite was very bad and I could hardly eat anything."

"During these four years of misery I was under the care of seven different doctors. They said that I was suffering from indigestion and anaemia. I tried several remedies but they proved of no avail. It was the beginning of last summer that I had the last attack of malaria, and it proved a very severe one. I was home for six weeks in a terrible condition; it was then that some friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I commenced their use."

"Of course I did not expect such a change of fortune, but I found that I brought about a wonderful change in me. I felt myself getting gradually stronger, my appetite returned, and I was able to sleep much better. My friends were surprised at the wonderful change in my health. I am now quite well, and find work a pleasure. I feel very thankful that I started Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and shall always do my utmost to recommend them."

Go now to your chemist and ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or send $1.50 for a bottle, $3 for six bottles, to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kianglee Road, Shanghai.

CHEER 'O.

A HALLOWEEN NIGHT
ON FRIDAY.

SCOTTISH HELPERS.

On Friday night the Cheer 'O' excelled itself when the Scottish helpers of the Canteen gave the men a touch of Home in providing them with a Halloween night. Mrs. A. T. Hamilton unfortunately was not present, although she is much better. It was thought that the excitement would have been too much for her, but she had helped with the preparations.

Mrs. C. P. F. James started the evening with community singing and soon a great crowd arrived for the fun to come. There was some commotion when it was known that the Band to supply the dance music would not be coming. It was then too late to arrange for other musicians, so Mrs. James and Mr. Brown kindly undertook it in turns to play on the piano. Mr. Brown started in with the help of a violinist and they played for some time. Later some of the lost Band came and with their extra help the dancing went with a swing.

The players were: Messrs. Blake, Benn, and Hicks, of the Navy and R.A.M.C. The dance programme was a lengthy one. Lance-Corporal Branch of the K.O.S.B., was a capital M.C. The Scottish dances were true to nationality, helped by Piper Slattery, of the K.O.S.B., and those taking part enjoyed every step.

During an interval refreshments were served, the ladies having worked hard to supply the sandwiches, scones and tarts. The event of the evening was the haggis, which was carried round shoulder high by Mr. A. T. Hamilton, accompanied by Piper Slattery, whose playing on his pipes gave the necessary Scottish touch. The excitement at this stage was as good as being at St. Andrew's Ball. Many present had never tasted the famous Scottish dish, but they now know what a good thing it is. The haggis was served with mashed potatoes in which three lucky prizes were hidden. Tubs of water were on the verandah with apples in them, and non-dancers had a good time ducking for them. Some of them got a bath instead of an apple, but all enjoyed the fun.

Lucky dips were provided for the ladies and Service men. Miss Wells, Miss Bird, and Miss Bewley were the lucky fair ones. The fortunate men were Messrs. Bell and King, of the K.O.S.B., and a lance-corporal of the Queen's Regiment, a reservist.

The prizes were kindly given by Mr. H. J. Lamb. The success of the gathering was due to the help of the helpers, and also to the ladies who went as partners. The habits of the Cheer 'O' have never had a better time.

The annual Poppy Day celebrations have taken place at Sunghai and proved very successful. Arrangements included a fancy fair in the Club, followed by dinner and a dance. It is reckoned that the sum taken may reach $2,000.

VISIT TO TANGIER.

Italian Squadron Pays Call.

EUROPE AGITATED.

Many And Varied Emotional Reactions Provoked.

London, Yesterday. The visit of an Italian naval squadron to Tangier with Prince Udine, who yesterday opened an Italian scholastic institute, hospital and other buildings, has provoked varied emotional reactions in European capitals in view of the impending conference to revise the Tangier statute, which Italy does not recognise.

Paris, Yesterday. The newspapers regard the Italian "demonstration" as an unfriendly act. "L'Ouvre" says the commemoration anniversary of the Fascist revolution is assuming a most galling form.

"L'Humanite" accuses Italian Fascism of going to the help of Spanish Fascism, with which it is secretly in league in a Mediterranean policy.

Contrariwise, French official circles consider the demonstration "merely theatrical."

There are semi-official hopes of negotiations for a revision of the statute, firstly between France and Spain alone, and afterwards with the inclusion of Britain and Italy, which might lead to a speedy agreement. Meantime, there can be no question of inviting Italy "to put in her oar."

Berlin, Yesterday. The incident is described in Germany as "a panther spring" and has resulted in columns of newspaper reminiscences from the Kaiser's despatch of the warship "Panther" to demonstrate at "Vorwaerts" declares it is directed against England and France, but the "Vossische Zeitung" thinks Britain will welcome Italy's action to speed up Franco-British negotiations. —Reuter.

FLAG SETTLEMENT.

GENERAL SMUTS WIRES HIS OPINION.

A GENEROUS MEASURE.

London, Yesterday. In reply to a request for his opinion on the flag settlement in South Africa General Smuts telegraphed to the "Sunday Observer": "Dual flag settlement is a generous measure which leaves the position of the Union Jack intact while the national flag provides for strong national sentiment. I consider it on its merits a wise and statesmanlike solution and expect that further beneficial results may follow in improved temper and greater sense of unity between the white races." —British Wireless Service.

JAPANESE NAVY.

SPLENDID REVIEW AT TOKYO.

Tokyo, Yesterday. Immense crowds from all over the country assembled at every point of vantage this morning to see the greatest naval review ever held since 1919. One hundred and fifty-eight warships, including eight capital ships and 20 cruisers, 72 destroyers and 88 submarines, aggregating over 700,000 tons, and twelve transports participated.

The ships were drawn up in eight parallel lines off Yokohama occupying an area of six miles by two.

The battleship "Mutsu" with the Emperor aboard, steamed slowly between the lines, while a large number of air craft circled overhead. The inspection lasted over two hours. —Reuter.

MARCH TO ROME.

FASCIST CELEBRATES 5TH ANNIVERSARY.

Rome, Yesterday. The fifth anniversary of the Fascist march to Rome was celebrated throughout Italy, including a great review of the forces by Mussolini in Rome, but ceremonies were suspended as a sign of mourning in regard to a railway disaster in which six were killed and 80 seriously injured. The collision was between an ex-

CAPSIZED SUDDENLY.

How The Italian Liner Went Down.

CAPT. COOPER'S NARRATIVE.

Blue Star Commander Radiographic Story.

London, Yesterday. A graphic account of the sinking of the Italian liner "Principessa Mafalda" is contained in wireless messages from Captain Cooper, Commander of the "Empire Star," which reached the London offices of the Blue Star Line yesterday. The message, which has been delayed in transmission, states that when the "Empire Star" arrived at the scene of the disaster there were no outward signs of distress, but all the boats were being lowered. Two were overloaded and capsized and several were swamped. The "Empire Star" and "Alhena" began rescuing the survivors but had difficulty in keeping position owing to the people in the water. The Captain added: "At 9.40 p.m. the 'Mafalda' capsized suddenly. The survivors were helpless with fright and I was unable to gather information, but understand a shaft broke smashing the engine and flooding the engine room." —British Wireless Service.

TERRIFIC GALE.

MUCH HAVOC ALL OVER ENGLAND.

SEVERAL FATALITIES.

London, Yesterday. Messages, delayed by heavy rain, blowing down, emphasise the fierce nature of the gale which swept the British Isles on Friday night. It is estimated that 20 lives were lost in different parts of the country. Lancashire experienced the full impact. At Lancaster a tidal wave swept over the banks of the river Lune and flooded the hospital, drowning three patients, despite the courageous efforts of the nursing staff, who saved 16.

At Fleetwood, a fishing port on the Lancashire coast, a gale blowing at 80 miles an hour broke down the sea defences and the water rushed in torrents down the streets, imprisoning many people in their homes. Four bodies have been recovered.

At Blackpool four water cooling towers 250 feet high were torn down at a power station. The adjoining area was flooded and the town deprived of electric current for several hours. "From all parts of the coast heavy seas and damage to piers and shipping are reported. The crew of a Scarborough motor fishing boat, believed lost, were towed to port late last night with the craft damaged, after having been blown 30 miles before the gale." —British Wireless Service.

London, Saturday. A heavy gale swept the British Isles last night, the wind maintaining an average velocity of nearly 60 miles an hour. A velocity of 78 miles an hour was registered at Valentia, Ireland.

Vessels round the coast, and particularly in the south-west and in the Irish Channel experienced violent seas but few casualties occurred.

The destroyer "Rowena" with a Naval tug went to the assistance of the Spanish tanker "Arnos," 4,185 tons, whose steering gear broke west of Portland Bill and who was in danger of drifting on the rocks in West Bay. She was brought to a safe position, Naval craft standing by and afterwards towing her into Weymouth.

Mersey Ports. The Mersey ports suffered severely from the gale and a steam barge broke her moorings, crashed against the walls of the dock and sank, the mate being drowned.

Inland, much minor damage was done. In London a 100-ton crane employed on a new building crashed, while at Bradford a chimney, 180 feet high, was blown down. Two hundred employees were working in the building at the time and all escaped unhurt. —British Wireless Service.

London, Yesterday. Reports from the Midlands and the North state that the gale was even fiercer there than in the South. A tidal wave swept up the River Lune at Lancaster and flooded the Luncheon Hospital where nineteen patients were cut off by the waters. Three of these were drowned, the corpses being recovered by firemen in boats. Nurses carried others upstairs through two feet of water to safety.

A GREEK OUTRAGE.

President Shot At In Street.

WOUNDED IN TEMPLE.

Assault, A Deaf Mute, Explains Crime.

Athens, Yesterday. A man in the street fired at President Condouriotis. The latter was not injured. The assailant was arrested. President Condouriotis was entering a car after opening the Congress of Mayors. A bullet struck the wind screen of the car, showering glass and splinters on the President, who was otherwise uninjured, but the bullet injured the bystander. Crowds attempted to lynch the assailant before his arrest.

President Condouriotis' cuts were bandaged and he was taken to hospital where it was found that the bullet had actually grazed his forehead after striking the windscreen. The President's mental lucidity was not impaired.

A medical bulletin states that President Condouriotis was wounded in the right temple where the bone was splintered. The President bore the slight operation very well and his condition is satisfactory. He was able to return home.

Goussios is a native of Larissa, and is a waiter who suffers from an impediment in his speech. The police state his luggage contained Communist literature.

The assailant, named Goussios, aged thirty, apparently a deaf mute, made a statement that he has long been unemployed and as he did not receive State assistance he sought to avenge himself by killing the President. —Reuter.

SOVIET EXECUTIONS.

Moscow, Saturday. The death sentences on the brothers Prove and on Korepanov have been carried out. The men were tried recently and accused of selling military information to a British agent. —Reuter.

even fiercer there than in the South. A tidal wave swept up the River Lune at Lancaster and flooded the Luncheon Hospital where nineteen patients were cut off by the waters. Three of these were drowned, the corpses being recovered by firemen in boats. Nurses carried others upstairs through two feet of water to safety.

Several fatalities occurred elsewhere and there were also many exciting escapes.

Damage To Shipping. Serious damage to shipping occurred all round Britain. Ships were held up on the Mersey where the gale had a force of 92 miles an hour. Liverpool felt the full force of the wind and two people were killed when the main aerial of the Liverpool Station of the British Broadcasting Corporation blew down in the middle of a transmission.

Two houses blew down at Manchester. Many people are temporarily unemployed at Leigh owing to damage to works. Thousands of pounds of damage was done to plate-glass windows, chimney attacks and roofs at Blackpool. Five families at Bottom Ebbw Vale were rendered homeless in consequence of their habitations being blown down.

Telephone Lines Broken. Telephone communication with the important provincial centres was affected owing to the blowing down of two hundred trunk lines. A break between London and Tenny, Lincolnshire, stopped the beam wireless service to India and Australia.

The football match between New Brighton and Barrow was postponed owing to the wrecking of the stand at the ground.

Fishing Disaster. There was a fishing disaster in Cleegran Bay, in the County of Galway, when a large gale struck a number of boats and swamped all except one. The one to escape cut the fishing nets adrift and made for safety.

The storm raged for hours and it is known already that thirteen people were drowned. It is feared, however, that the total death toll will be much larger than this. —Reuter.
